

The hospital district expansion demolished three hundred and forty-one buildings.

In the early sixties, the west campus of the University of Cincinnati, demolished eighty buildings for campus expansion. Then in the mid sixties, as part of an Urban Renewal Project, the west campus of the University demolished 269 more mostly residential buildings.

The UC West Campus expansion demolished three hundred and forty-nine buildings.

E. 1930s UC Campus and Bethesda Hospital

