

The Retreat of Cancer Family Care

CANCERFAMILYCARE

2421

Design Statement

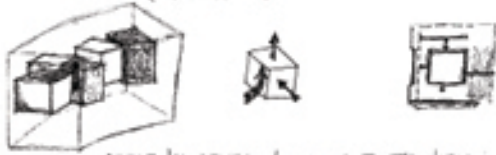

The form of the building is derived from a series of small-scale, modular units of size and organization that all share a common, primary function, and secondary function. The secondary function is to provide a space for the family to gather and share their experiences. The primary function is to provide a space for the family to gather and share their experiences. The building is a series of small-scale, modular units of size and organization that all share a common, primary function, and secondary function. The secondary function is to provide a space for the family to gather and share their experiences. The primary function is to provide a space for the family to gather and share their experiences.

Upper Level Floor Plan

Upper Level Floor Plan

Additional spaces that occur to the design process, specifically a library and a gathering space. The building is a series of small-scale, modular units of size and organization that all share a common, primary function, and secondary function. The secondary function is to provide a space for the family to gather and share their experiences. The primary function is to provide a space for the family to gather and share their experiences.

PROJECT DESIGNERS:
Steve Waldron
Seth Wilschutz
February 10, 2008

Longitudinal Section

Northern Wall Detail

West Elevation

Library & Gathering Room View

South Elevation

East Elevation

Library & North Wall View

The goal of a building is to provide a space for the family to gather and share their experiences. The building is a series of small-scale, modular units of size and organization that all share a common, primary function, and secondary function. The secondary function is to provide a space for the family to gather and share their experiences. The primary function is to provide a space for the family to gather and share their experiences.

Upper Level Floor Plan

