

The Third Annual Cincinnati Project Symposium

Sponsored by The Taft Research Center, the College of Arts and Sciences, and the Departments of Sociology, Africana Studies, Communication, Journalism, Psychology, Anthropology and Women's, Gender & Sexuality Studies.

Friday, February 17, 2017

8:30 AM – 2:30 PM

African American Cultural & Resource Center
(60 West Charlton Street)

“Taking a Stand: Anti-Black Racism and Coalitional Politics”

Keynote address by
Dr. Patricia Hill Collins
at 1:00 P.M.

Register at <https://goo.gl/z2qRW9>.

Dr. Collins is a distinguished professor at the University of Maryland. She is also the Charles Phelps Taft Emeritus Professor of Sociology within the Department of African American Studies at the University of Cincinnati. She is a social theorist whose research and scholarship have examined issues of race, gender, social class, sexuality and nation. She is the author of the critically acclaimed books Black Feminist Thought: Knowledge, Consciousness, and the Politics of Empowerment (1990) and Black Sexual Politics: African Americans, Gender, and the New Racism (2005). She is the co-editor of Race, Class, and Gender: An Anthology (2013). Professor Collins's research interests include the epistemologies of intersectionality and emancipatory knowledges (like critical race theory, nationalism or feminism), as well as situating the social experiences of African American youth within global social inequalities, capitalist development, transnationalism, and political activism.

The Cincinnati Project
Working for Equity

