INCLUSIVE EXCELLENCE WORKSHOP

WHO’S @ UC?
April 17, 10:00-11:30AM
407 Teachers/Dyer Complex

PRESENTER: Brice Mickey, RAPP Program Coordinator, SALD

“I am, somehow, less interested in the weight and convolutions of Einstein’s brain than in the near certainty that people of equal talent have lived and died in cotton fields and sweatshops.” – Steven Jay Gould

Through this fun interactive workshop, participants will explore “diversity” at UC. This includes statistical diversity and campus resources on race, gender, sexuality, ability, and religion. Towards this end, participants will have an opportunity to engage in dialogue around perception.

Brice Mickey is a staff member in the Student Activities & Leadership Development office and also a graduate student at the University. Brice, who uses he/him/his pronouns, was born and raised here in Cincinnati, Ohio. After graduating from Walnut Hills, he went to the University of Cincinnati where he earned his Bachelors of Science in Information Technology out of CECH. Though his love of technology prevented him from pursuing a degree in Social Justice, he’s been involved with RAPP’s brand of social justice education since 2009. Brice was a member of RAPP XXV, Peer Leader of RAPP XXVI, Facilitator of RAPPs XXVIII and XXIX, and Coordinator of RAPP XXX, XXXI and XXXII. Brice began his work as a program coordinator in Fall 2014 and that same year was awarded the Innovate Response award from the American College Personnel Association’s Commission on Social Justice Education! In his spare time Brice enjoys attending social justice conferences, traveling both domestically and internationally, reading thought provoking literature, and hanging out with friends.
