Title: Audiolist - COM

Pay Scale Group: 00 D

Essential Function

Evaluate hearing of patients with ear abnormalities and/or auditory disorders through case history, clinical observation and diagnostic tests of auditory function; plan and participate in habilitative and rehabilitative programs for patients with auditory disorders.

Characteristic Duties

Independently maintains a clinical caseload in designated clinical area;

Provides evidence based evaluation and treatment to diverse, medically challenging patient populations;

Provides quality service delivery techniques that facilitate optimum services to meet patient needs being sensitive to patients’ age, social, cultural, educational and vocational background;

Completes required documentation accurately and within the designated time frame, which may include report writing, billing, and/ or professional education database;

Works collaboratively as part of a multidisciplinary team as well as with Division colleagues to promote best care of the patient;

Participates in performance improvement initiatives within assigned work area under the supervision of Director of Audiology;

Takes initiative to remain current in clinical practice through lectures, literature, and other educational opportunities;

Maintains confidentiality pertaining to patient care and all Division policies and procedures;

Functions in a self-directed manner and takes ownership to manage self and work including responsibility for actions and accountability for results;

Maintains professional demeanor and is responsible for quality care in all interactions;

Responds promptly to communication (e.g., e-mail, pages, and phone messages);

Performs duties/tasks/assignments as directed to support Division goals or needs;
Completes clinical privileges consistent with job responsibilities and personal development plan;

Meets and adheres to state licensure board and Division clinical practice guidelines;

Performs other duties as assigned.

Minimum Qualifications

Doctorate or master's degree in audiology; license in audiology from the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA); two years’ experience; excellent communication skills.