DEPARTMENTAL INSTRUCTIONS

for Hiring International Workers

INTRODUCTION

The University of Cincinnati (UC) is a large and exciting international community. More than 5,000 international visitors from over 100 different countries come to UC each year. Many are employed/paid as students, professors, researchers, and guest speakers. This guide has been developed by UC International Services to help departmental personnel understand the policies and procedures to be followed when an international visitor is going to be hired or paid by UC, including how to submit online eForm requests for specific visa statuses.

It is important that all new visitors schedule a check-in with UC International Services upon arrival to campus. The visitors must use the iBearcatsGlobal system to schedule their check-in and should bring their passport, visa, I-94 card and certificate of eligibility (if applicable) to be checked in and onboarded. Every international visitor that comes to UC, for any purpose, must have a record created for them in UC International Services' iBearcatsGlobal database.

CREATING iBEARCATS GLOBAL RECORD

Creating an iBearcatsGlobal Record

Every international visitor that comes to UC, for any purpose, must have a record created for them in UC International Services' iBearcatsGlobal database. International visitors can be paid as independent contractors, students, or employees provided they hold the appropriate immigration/visa status and provided the proper processes for payment are followed. That process begins with creating an iBearcatsGlobal record.

In order to create an iBearcatsGlobal record for an international visitor, the departmental staff member must first become an authorized user of UC International Services' iBearcatsGlobal database. Once a staff person is an authorized user, the international visitor can be entered into iBearcatsGlobal and the appropriate eForm request can be submitted. Instructions for becoming an authorized user of the iBearcatsGlobal database and submitting the appropriate eForms can be found in the "Submitting Specific eForm Requests" section.

PERFORMING LIMITED SERVICES

International Visitors Performing Limited Services

The University sponsors the visits of many international visitors who are not students or employees. They include visitors providing "limited services" on a temporary basis, including guest lecturing, performing and a host of other important activities. These individuals typically come on tourist status, including B-1, B-2 and visa waiver status. A discussion of each status follows, as well as a complete guide to the payment process.

B-1 Visitor For Business

The B-1 classification allows international visitors to come to the United States temporarily to engage in a variety of business-related activities. "Business" refers to conventions, conferences, consultations, and other legitimate activities of a commercial or professional nature. It does not include employment.

The law draws a sharp distinction between "doing business" and "working", though in practice deciding where business ends and employment begins is not always easy. U.S. consular and immigration officers are particularly sensitive to activities which appear to go beyond "business" and spill over into employment. However, honoraria for lectures, performances, and consultations are permitted, provided the stay at UC will not exceed 9 days and the international visitor has not received such payments from more than 5 other institutions during the previous 6 months. Reimbursement for travel and living expenses are permitted regardless of the duration of stay.

International visitors should keep in mind that the B-1 visa is a nonimmigrant visa, meaning that the applicant must have a residence outside of the United States that he or she has no intention of abandoning and the intention to leave the United States upon completion of his or her visit.

At the U.S. port of entry, the B-1 visitor's admissibility is determined by an immigration inspector. B-1 visitors are admitted for a period of time which is fair and reasonable for completion of the purpose of the trip, but under no circumstances for more than an initial six months.

Extensions of an initial period of authorized stay may be sought by written application made to the DHS. In almost all cases, extensions may be granted in increments of not more than six months each.

B-2 Visitor For Pleasure

The B-2 classification allows international visitors to come to the United States temporarily to engage in activities of a recreational nature, including tourism, amusement, visits with friends and relatives, medical treatment, etc. However, honoraria for lectures, performances, consultations, etc. as well as reimbursement for travel and living expenses are permitted as long as the stay at UC does not exceed 9 days and the international visitor has not received such payments from more than 5 other institutions during the previous 6 months.

PERFORMING LIMITED SERVICES

Visa Waiver Program

With few exceptions, an international visitor seeking to enter the United States must first apply at a U.S. consulate or embassy abroad for (and be issued) a U.S. visa. The Visa Waiver Program (VWP) allows citizens of designated countries to apply for admission to the United States as visitors without first obtaining a nonimmigrant visa from a U.S. consulate. Use of the VWP - which is entirely voluntary - is limited to business visitors (who would normally hold "B-1" visas) and to visitors for pleasure (usually holding "B-2" visas).

The following countries have been designated to participate: Andorra, Australia, Austria, Belgium, Brunei, Chili, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Latvia, Liechtenstein, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Monaco, Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, Portugal, San Marino, Singapore, Slovakia, Slovenia, South Korea, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Taiwan and United Kingdom.

To apply for admission into the United States under the VWP, the traveler must meet certain conditions:

- Have a valid passport issued by, and be a citizen of, one of the participating countries;
- Seek entry for 90 days or less;
- Have a round-trip ticket issued by a participating carrier, valid for one year;
- Have proof of financial solvency; and
- Agree to waive the right to a hearing to determine admissibility to the U.S. if the immigration inspector declines entry.

Visitors applying for entry are allowed to remain for a maximum of 90 days, and may not change nonimmigrant status, apply for adjustment of status to lawful permanent resident or apply for an extension of stay. Visitors must apply for entry authorization using the Department of Homeland Security's Electronic System for Travel Authorization (ESTA) database at <http://www.cbp.gov/travel/international-visitors/esta> at least 72 hours before their scheduled departure.

Honorarium payments are permitted if the stay at UC will not exceed 9 days and the international visitor has not received such payments from more than 5 other institutions during the preceding 6 months. International visitors on visa waiver for business (WB) can receive reimbursement for travel and living expenses regardless of the length of stay. International visitors on the visa waiver for tourism (WT) can only receive reimbursement if the stay does not exceed 9 days.

PERFORMING LIMITED SERVICES

Invitation/Payment Process

The sponsoring department must enter the individual into iBearcatsGlobal using "Add New Person" link and submit the "Other Immigration Statuses" eForm following the instructions in the "How To Use UC International Services eForm" section. The sponsoring department can obtain an affiliate ID number for the visitor using the GETit system or have iBearcatsGlobal create a TEMP number for the visitor.

Sponsoring departments must also write a visit letter detailing the nature of the visit and the expected duration. In order to receive payments, the "Limited Services Engagement Form" and the "Foreign Visitors Supplement" should be submitted with the A-114 and appropriate immigration documents to UC International Services. The payment must be authorized by UC International Services or payment will not be made. UC International Services will forward the request for payment to Accounts Payable. Sponsoring departments will be notified when this has occurred. Given the short duration many international visitors spend at UC, we do not want international visitors performing limited services to personally appear at UC International Services unless they are J-1 sponsored on a UC DS-2019 or they do not have a permanent U.S. Social Security Number or Individual Taxpayer Identification Number, but are eligible to claim a tax treaty benefit. The sponsoring department should have the international visitor complete the "Limited Services Engagement Form", "Foreign Visitors Supplement" and the 8233 (if applicable), make copies of the international visitor's passport, visa and I-94 card (front and back), and complete the A-114 (including obtaining all appropriate signatures on the A-114). All documents should then be forwarded via campus mail to UC International Services at mail location #0640. If an ITIN number is needed to claim a tax treaty benefit, the visitor will be given instructions on how to schedule a check-in upon the sponsoring department submitting the "Other Immigration Statuses" eForm.

NOTE: The I-94 card is now issued electronically. Visitors must go to <https://i94.cbp.dhs.gov/> and print a copy of the I-94 card after arrival in the U.S.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT WORKERS

International students are granted permission to come to the United States solely to pursue a full course of academic study. Typically, these students are granted F-1 or J-1 immigration status. While study is the primary objective, international students can work on and off-campus under certain circumstances.

On-Campus Employment for F-1 Student Status Holders

International visitors in the U.S. studying for a degree are typically on F-1 immigration status. F-1 student status holders are permitted to engage in employment on the campus that they are authorized to attend for up to 20 hours a week while school is in session. There is no hourly limitation during scheduled breaks (i.e. summer vacation, spring break, etc). This is not an average but a week by week total. F-1 students who are assistantship holders at 50% FTE are working the maximum hours allowed by law. They cannot accept additional appointments unless during scheduled breaks. No eForm is required to be submitted by the hiring department in the case of on-campus employment. However, the student must appear in the Success Factors onboarding system and the students must be onboarded by UC International Services prior to beginning employment. Once the student appears in Success Factors the student is required to submit an "Employment Eligibility Verification/Social Security Letter" eForm in iBearsGlobal. Departments MUST ensure that newly arriving graduate assistants appear in Success Factors prior to their arrival on campus. You must plan ahead and process new hires timely.

F-1 Optional/Curricular Practical Training

As an F-1 status holder, an international student could also be authorized for employment through either Optional or Curricular Practical Training.

Optional Practical Training is employment that is "directly related to the student's major area of study". It is a privilege accorded every F-1 international visitor who has studied full-time for at least nine months at a USCIS approved school and who is currently maintaining F-1 status. An F-1 international visitor is entitled to 12 months of full-time Optional Practical Training for each higher degree they obtain. Students with majors in Science, Technology, Engineering, or Mathematics are eligible for 36 months of OPT, which includes a 24-month STEM OPT extension.

Optional Practical Training is available at these times:

- During vacations, if the student is currently enrolled and is eligible for OPT and intends to register for the next term or session;
- While school is in session (no more than 20 hours a week);
- After completion of all course requirements for the degree (excluding a thesis or equivalent) if the student is in a bachelor's, master's or doctoral degree program;
- After completion of the course of study (all Optional Practical Training must be completed within the 14-month period following completion of the course of study).

If you hire an employee who is on the 24-month STEM OPT extension, you must be aware of the following:

- You will be required to complete the form I-983 Training Plan for STEM OPT Students
- You will be required to help draft evaluations of training program progress at 12 and 24 months
- DHS can make site visits to verify the terms of the STEM OPT Employment

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT WORKERS

F-1 students authorized for OPT will have an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) with specific dates that they are employable. To continue employment past the date of EAD expiration, the student must receive a change of status which allows him or her to be employed (E-3, H-1B, J-1, TN, and O-1). If the change of status is not received by the date the EAD expires, employment must cease until the proper authorization is received.

Curricular Practical Training is designed to provide F-1 international students with an opportunity to gain actual employment experience that is “an integral part of an established curriculum”. Such training is defined as “alternate work/study, internship, cooperative education, or any type of required internship or practicum which is offered by sponsoring employers through cooperative agreements with the school”. The training must be a requirement or an integral part of the student’s degree. F-1 students on curricular practical training must show the following documents to prove they have the proper work authorization:

- An I-20 endorsed by the student’s Designated School Official, authorizing the employment. The endorsement should, at the very least, list the University of Cincinnati as the employer and give the dates and number of hours of employment.
- An unexpired I-94 card marked “F-1” for “D/S”.
- An unexpired passport (unless passport exempt).

F-1 students on OPT or CPT from other schools must be added to the iBearcatsGlobal database by the hiring department by completing the “Add New Person” link. Once entered into iBearcatsGlobal the hiring department should submit the “Other Immigration Statuses” eForm (see How to Use eForms section for further instructions).

J-1 Student Status Holders

Students who are accorded J-1 status are typically “sponsored” students (by either the U.S. government or home government). There are two types of employment authorization available for students on J-1 status: student employment and academic training. The difference between the two is that student employment occurs on-campus, unless there is economic necessity. Academic training is related to the student’s field of study and in most cases occurs off-campus and for a specified period of time.

Student Employment

J-1 student employment can be classified in essentially three ways:

1. Scholarship, Fellowship or Assistantship: If the employment is required because of a scholarship, fellowship or an assistantship, such activity usually occurs on campus with the school as the employer. In certain circumstances, however, the work can be done elsewhere for a different employer. For example, exchange students may work in a government or private research laboratory if the exchange visitor’s major professor (e.g. department chair) has a joint appointment at one of those locations and the employment is supervised and counts toward the student’s degree.
2. On-campus: Exchange Visitor Program regulations allow for jobs on-campus that are related/unrelated to study, which stipulate that the work can be done “on the premises” of the school. This means that the school does not have to be the employer. For example, students work for a commercial company, such as a food service, operating on the campus.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT WORKERS

3. Off-campus: Students may be authorized for off-campus employment when "necessary due to serious, urgent and unforeseen economic circumstances" that have arisen since the student's sponsorship on the J-1 visa. Such employment will be authorized in writing by a Responsible Officer (RO) or Alternate Responsible Officer (ARO), indicating the name and address of the employer and the dates of employment.

On-campus employment is limited to 20 hours per week while school is in session. There is no limit during scheduled breaks. No eForm is required to be submitted by the hiring department in the case of on-campus employment. However, the student's name must appear in Success Factors and the student's must be onboarded by UC International Services prior to beginning employment. Once the student's name appears in Success Factors, the student is required to submit an "Employment Eligibility Verification/Social Security Letter" eForm. Departments MUST ensure that newly arriving graduate assistants appear on the New Hire Checklist prior to their arrival on campus. You must plan ahead and process new hires in a timely manner.

Academic Training

Practical training for J-1 students is called "Academic Training." International students on J-1 visas are eligible for up to 18 months of academic training. Post-doctoral students are permitted three years of academic training. Some J-1 students are also allowed to work part-time during the academic program under Academic Training. Academic Training is granted in writing by the RO or ARO at the institution the student is attending. J-1 students on Academic Training from other schools must be added to the iBearcatsGlobal database by the hiring department by completing the "Add New Person" link. Once entered into iBearcatsGlobal the hiring department should submit the "Other Immigration Status" eForm. (see How to Use eForms section for further instructions).

E-3 EMPLOYMENT PETITIONS (AUSTRALIA)

Overview

In order to obtain E-3 status, the visitor must hold Australian citizenship and UC must be able to establish that the position meets the requirements of a "specialty occupation". "Specialty occupation" is defined as an occupation which "requires theoretical and practical application of a body of highly specialized knowledge in fields of human endeavor including, but not limited to: architecture, engineering, mathematics, physical sciences, social sciences, medicine and health, education, business specialties, accounting, law, theology and the arts. It also requires the attainment of a Bachelor's Degree or higher in a specific specialty, or its equivalent, as a minimum for entry into the occupation in the United States". Therefore, the UC position must satisfy one of the following criteria:

- A baccalaureate degree or higher in a specific field of study must be the minimum entry requirement for the position;
- The degree must be common among organizations in the industry;
- The particular duties of the position must be so specialized and complex that the knowledge necessary to execute the duties is normally associated with the attainment of a baccalaureate degree or higher.

The individual being hired must be able to demonstrate his/her qualifications for the position offered through documentation of the following:

- A U.S. baccalaureate degree or higher which is specifically related to and required by the specialty occupation;
- Work experience can help fulfill the baccalaureate degree requirement, but the work experience must be directly related to the proposed duties at UC. In such cases, three years of direct work experience counts for one year of education;
- A foreign degree which has been evaluated by an accredited firm or organization to be equivalent to a U.S. baccalaureate degree which is specifically related to and required by the specialty occupation, this is required for all foreign degrees except those obtained in Canada, the United Kingdom or Australia.

Wages

UC must attest that, for the entire period of employment, the wage paid to the E-3 worker will be the greater of:

- The actual wage rate paid to workers at the place of employment with similar skills and qualifications in the occupational classification in question. When appropriate, factors including education, work experience, job responsibilities and function, specialized knowledge and other legitimate business factors may be taken under consideration to substantiate higher wages paid to similarly situated workers; or
- The prevailing wage level for the occupational classification in the area of intended employment as established by the Department of Labor. We are required to pay at least 100% of the Prevailing Wage Determination.

The hiring department will need to complete an Actual Wage Determination Form as part of the E-3 application request. This form will help us establish the actual wage for the position.

E-3 EMPLOYMENT PETITIONS (AUSTRALIA)

Departments should take care to ensure that the prospective E-3 employee will be paid at least the average of what others in the department with similar duties, skills and qualifications make.

The Prevailing Wage Determination (PWD) will be obtained by UC International Services once an E-3 eForm application is received. The Prevailing Wage Determination is obtained from the Department of Labor. DOL determines the wage based upon a comparison between UC's requirements as to the degree, training, skills and work experience and the requirements considered by the U.S. Department of Labor to be normal for the occupation. The number of employees to be supervised by the foreign national is also a factor in the wage determination. If the department requires additional years of experience above the required degree, the PWD will be significantly higher. Hiring departments should take care when assigning experience, education and training to the position. Minimum requirements for the job should be used, not the education or training of the prospective employee. Typical processing time for a PWD is 6 weeks.

Fees

There is a $460.00 application fee associated with obtaining an E-3 visa for the University if the visitor is applying for the status within the U.S. The fee should be paid by the University. There is no application fee if the visitor is outside the U.S. applying for E-3 status at the U.S. Consulate/Embassy. However, the E-3 employee will need to pay the customary visa fee at a consulate if overseas.

Note: The address to be put on the check is: Department of Homeland Security, – California Service Center, 24000 Avila Road, 2nd Floor, Room 2312, Laguna Niguel, CA 92677.

E-3 Cap

There is an annual cap that limits the number of E-3 visas that can be approved each year. That number is 10,500. Once this cap has been reached, no further E-3 visas can be approved.

E-3 eForm Application Process

The hiring department must create an iBearcatsGlobal record for the individual using the "Add New Person" link and submit an E-3 eForm application to UC International Services. Follow the instructions in the How to Use UC International eForms section.

H-1B SPECIALITY WORKER EMPLOYEES

Overview

H-1B specialty workers are employed in many positions at the University of Cincinnati including: professors (tenure track or adjuncts); postdoctoral fellows; research assistants; etc.

The position must require at least a bachelor's degree in a specific field of study. Jobs that don't require a degree in a specific field (i.e. Liberal Arts or a wide range of fields) do not qualify for H-1B specialty worker status.

The application process for hiring an international visitor on H-1B specialty worker status is a cooperative effort between the hiring department, UC International Services, and the H-1B beneficiary. The most important thing to keep in mind about the H-1B process is that it is time consuming.

Normal processing time is 180-240 days (unless premium processing is used) if everything goes smoothly. We recommend that you start the process early. H-1B petitions can be submitted 6 months in advance of the desired start date. Whether a new hire or extension, you should submit the required documents specified below to UC International Services 6 months in advance when possible. This will ensure that the international visitor will begin/continue employment as anticipated.

An applicant may not begin work at the University of Cincinnati until an H-1B is approved for UC. There is an exception for individuals who currently hold H-1B status as detailed in the "Portability of H-1B Status" section. H-1B specialty workers have a maximum stay of 6 years no matter how many different employers they have. Employment at UC can be granted for a maximum of 3 year increments. There is an exception to the 6 year limit as described in the "Extensions beyond 6 Years for H-1B's Awaiting Permanent Residence" section. The process described in these instructions must be followed whether you are hiring an H-1B specialty worker for the first time or filing an extension.

Requirements for the H-1B Status

In order to obtain H-1B status, UC must be able to establish that the position meets the requirements of a "specialty occupation." "Specialty occupation" is defined as an occupation which "requires theoretical and practical application of a body of highly specialized knowledge in fields of human endeavor including, but not limited to, architecture, engineering, mathematics, physical sciences, social sciences, medicine and health, education, business specialties, accounting, law, theology and the arts, and which requires the attainment of a Bachelor's Degree or higher in a specific specialty, or its equivalent, as a minimum for entry into the occupation in the United States". Positions that can be filled with general knowledge (Liberal Arts) or a multitude of different majors do not qualify for H-1B Specialty Worker status. Therefore, the UC position must satisfy one of the following criteria:

- A baccalaureate degree or higher in a specific field must be the minimum entry requirement for the position;
- The degree must be common among organizations in the industry; or
- The particular duties of the position must be so specialized and complex that the knowledge necessary to execute the duties is normally associated with the attainment of a baccalaureate degree or higher.

H-1B SPECIALITY WORKER EMPLOYEES

The individual being hired must be able to demonstrate his/her qualifications for the position offered through documentation of one of the following:

- A U.S. baccalaureate degree or higher which is specifically related to and required by the specialty occupation;
- Work experience can help fulfill the baccalaureate degree requirement, but the work experience must be directly related to the duties at UC. In such cases, three years of direct work experience counts for one year of education;
- A foreign degree which has been evaluated by an accredited firm or organization to be equivalent to a U.S. baccalaureate degree which is specifically related to and required by the specialty occupation;
- Medical doctors must have an unrestricted state license to practice the specialty occupation in the state of intended employment.

Wages

UC must attest that, for the entire period of employment, the wage paid to the H-1B specialty worker will be the greater of:

- The actual wage rate paid to workers at the place of employment with similar experience and qualifications in the occupational classification in question. Factors including education, work experience, job responsibility and function, specialized knowledge and other legitimate business factors may be taken under consideration;
- The prevailing wage level for the occupational classification in the area of intended employment. We are required to pay at least 100% of the Prevailing Wage Determination.

Hiring departments will be required to complete an "Actual Wage Determination Form" as part of the H-1B application. This form will help us establish the actual wage for the position. Departments should take care and ensure that the prospective H-1B employee will be paid at least the average of what others in the department with similar duties, experience and qualifications make.

The Prevailing Wage Determination (PWD) will be obtained by UC International Services once an H-1B application eForm is submitted. The Prevailing Wage Determination is obtained from the Department of Labor and is determined, in part, by degree level, experience and training required for the position. If you require additional years of experience above the required degree, the PWD will be significantly higher. Hiring departments should take care when completing the H-1B request and only put additional years of experience or training when it is actually a requirement for the job. The degree indicated should be the minimum degree required for the job, not the degree held by the prospective employee. A PWD typically takes six weeks to obtain.

Fees

The application fee for H-1B specialty worker petitions is $460.00. This fee must be paid by the hiring department.

H-1B SPECIALITY WORKER EMPLOYEES

A fraud prevention and detection fee is required for all employers who are filing a "new" H-1B petition. The "new" H-1B filing fee is $500.00. A "new" case would include someone being hired at UC for the first time, or someone who currently holds another nonimmigrant status (J-1, F-1) and wants to change status to H-1B. This fee does not apply to extension petitions for H-1B status holders who currently work at UC. The hiring department must pay this fee, when applicable.

If dependents will be included in the petition, an additional fee of $455.00 must be submitted for the first dependent and an additional $85 (biometric fee) for each additional dependent. This fee can be paid by the prospective employee or the hiring department.

A premium processing fee is an optional fee that may be paid when circumstances warrant a quick approval. The fee is $1,440.00. Payment of the premium processing fee will ensure that a decision on the H-1B petition is made within 15 days. It usually takes 3 to 4 weeks for UC International Services to receive the formal answer (approval or denial) in the mail. Any department wishing to use this option must notify UC International Services of the intention when submitting the request for H-1B status by including an additional $1,440.00 with the other checks. The premium processing fee must be paid by the hiring department, not the individual being hired, unless the need for expedited processing is personal, not business related. Business reasons would include, but are not limited to, the H-1B's current status expiring before the petition would normally be approved. Personal reasons would include the H-1B specialty worker needing to travel in the near future. The "H-1B Premium Processing Policy and Employee Attestation" must be completed and submitted by the employee in cases where the employee wants to pay the premium processing fee for personal reasons.

Note: The address to be put on checks is: Department of Homeland Security, – California Service Center, 24000 Avila Road, 2nd Floor, Room 2312, Laguna Niguel, CA 92677.

Please be prepared for this process to take SIX MONTHS, from collection of necessary letters, documents, checks, etc. to processing time at USCIS. PLEASE ALLOW ENOUGH TIME!!!

Portability of H-1B Status

H-1B non-immigrants may change jobs or employers upon the filing of a new petition (once the USCIS receipt is received) by the new employer as long as the individual is in lawful H-1B status at the time of filing and has not engaged in any unauthorized employment since his or her last lawful admission. An individual currently authorized to work for one department at UC on H-1B status is not permitted to change departments unless a new H-1B application is submitted by the new department. If the employed individual plans to change positions with the same department, a new H-1B application is required.

H-1B eForm Application Process

The hiring Department must create an iBearsGlobal record for the individual using the "Add New Person" link and submit an H-1B eForm application to UC International Services to have an H-1B processed. See the "How to Use UC International eForms" section for further instructions.

J-1 EXCHANGE VISITORS (NON-STUDENTS)

Overview

The purpose of the University of Cincinnati's J-1 exchange visitor program is to provide courses of study, lecturing, and research opportunities in the various fields of instruction and research conducted by the University of Cincinnati for qualified international students, professors, research scholars, short-term scholars, specialist and Interns to promote the general interest of international educational and cultural exchange. Not everyone qualifies to be a J-1 exchange visitor. Below are the defined categories for which the University of Cincinnati is authorized:

Student - An international visitor coming to the U.S. to engage full-time in a degree program or a prescribed course of study (non-degree). Non-degree students have a two-year maximum stay.

Professor - An international visitor coming to the U.S. primarily to teach/lecture (5-year maximum).

Research Scholar - An international visitor coming to the U.S. to engage primarily in research, observe or consult in conjunction with a research scholar (5-year maximum).

Short-Term Scholar - An international visitor coming to the U.S. for the purpose of lecturing, observing, consulting, training or demonstrating special skills for a period not to exceed 6 months.

Specialist - An international visitor who is an expert in a field of specialized knowledge or skill, coming to the U.S. for observing, consulting, or demonstrating special skills (one-year maximum).

Intern – An international visitor who is enrolled in and pursuing a degree at an accredited post-secondary academic institution outside the United States or an individual who has graduated from such an institution no more than 12 months prior to their exchange visitor program begin date. The purpose is to participate in a structured and guided work-based internship program in his or her specific academic field and provides on-the-job exposure to American techniques, methodologies, and expertise, and enhances the Intern's knowledge of American culture and society. Participation as an Intern is limited to 12 months. Internships must be full-time positions consisting of at least 32 hours per week.

J-1 EXCHANGE VISITORS (NON-STUDENTS)

J-1 eForm Application Process

To request a DS-2019 for J-1 Exchange Visitor status the sponsoring department must create an iBearcatsGlobal record for the visitor, using the "Add New Person" link, and submit the appropriate J-1 Application eForm to UC International Services. Please be aware that there are multiple J-1 applications for different populations and departments. Please make sure you use the appropriate J-1 application eForm based on the purpose of the visit or the population you serve. J-1 application options include:

- J-1 Scholar Application (for UC Departments)
 - J-1 Scholar Application for Cincinnati Children's Hospital
 - J-1 Intern Application (for UC Departments)
 - J-1 Intern Application for Cincinnati Children's Hospital
 - J-1 Exchange Student Application

Knowing which J-1 eForm to select is key. Exchange students are coming to study for one or two semesters and will be enrolled full time in classes. Interns are students enrolled at institutions overseas coming to engage in projects for up to one year that are part of their program of study. Professors and research scholars are the most typical kind of J-1 visitors and for that the "J-1 Scholar Application" is used.

See the "Submitting Specific eForm Requests" section for further instructions.

J-2 Dependents

Spouses and children of J-1 exchange visitors are classified with J-2 status. They are eligible to apply for an Employment Authorization Document; once granted, they are employable. The EAD will have an expiration date. J-2 EAD's are typically issued for one year intervals, or until such time that the J-1's DS-2019 expires, whichever is sooner. A J-2 is not permitted to continue employment unless the EAD is renewed in a timely manner. J-2 dependents can stay only as long as the J-1 spouse. J-2 spouses and children of J-1's sponsored by UC can obtain assistance with applying for a J-2 work permits from UC International Services. If a J-2 is hired by UC, the hiring department will need to create an iBearcatsGlobal record for the visitor and submit the "Other Immigration Statuses" eForm to facilitate onboarding once the dependent has a work permit.

O-1 ALIENS OF EXTRAORDINARY ABILITY

Overview

O-1 status is available to persons of extraordinary ability in the sciences, business, athletics, and education (although O-1 status is also available to persons of extraordinary ability in the arts, the standards are different). O-1 status is an excellent option for those subject to the J-1 two year foreign residence requirement and who are not eligible for H-1B specialty worker status. Similarly, the O-1 option should be considered when an H-1B visa holder is ineligible for further extensions and does not desire to, or cannot obtain permanent resident status.

To qualify as a person of extraordinary ability there must be evidence that the visa beneficiary has earned acclaim by the receipt of a major internationally-recognized award (Nobel Peace Prize, etc.) or at least three of the following:

1. Receipt of lesser nationally-or internationally-recognized prizes or awards for excellence.
2. Membership in associations in the field which require outstanding achievements of their members, as judged by recognized experts.
3. Evidence of the beneficiary's authorship of scholarly articles in his or her field, in professional journals, or other major media.
4. Published material in professional or major trade publications or major media about the beneficiary and his or her work.
5. Evidence of participation on a panel, or individually, as the judge of the work of others.
6. Evidence in the form of letters or affidavits from prominent colleagues who can confirm the beneficiary's original contributions of major significance to his or her field.
7. Evidence that the beneficiary has been employed in a critical or essential capacity for organizations and establishments that have a distinguished reputation.
8. Evidence that the beneficiary has commanded and now commands a high salary or other compensation for services.

Even if three of the above forms of evidence are produced, O-1 status will not be accorded unless a "peer group" writes an advisory opinion, based upon a review of the evidence to be submitted to the DHS, which concludes that the beneficiary has risen to the top of his or her field of endeavor. The regulations of the DHS define a "peer group" as a "group or organization which is comprised of practitioners of the alien's occupation who are of similar standing with the alien and which are governed by such practitioners." A "peer group" can also be "a person or persons with expertise in the field."

O-1 ALIENS OF EXTRAORDINARY ABILITY

Preparing and filing an O-1 request will depend on the coordinated activities of the hiring department, UC International Services, and the beneficiary. An O-1 nonimmigrant visa petition, like other work-related visa petitions, is filed by a U.S. employer on behalf of an existing or prospective employee. Thus, an O-1 visa petition belongs to the employer and it entitles the visa holder to work only for the petitioning employer. Please note, it does not entitle the spouse or child of an O-1 visa holder to work. The intent of the application is to prove that the beneficiary is one of the small percentages of persons who have risen to the very top of their field.

The application fee of $460.00 must be paid by the hiring department. Premium processing can also be requested for an additional fee of $1,440.00. Both checks should be made out to the Department of Homeland Security.

Note: The address to be put on checks is: Department of Homeland Security, – California Service Center, 24000 Avila Road, 2nd Floor, Room 2312, Laguna Niguel, CA 92677.

O-1 eForm Application Process

The hiring department must create an iBearcatsGlobal record for the individual using the "Add New Person" link and submit an O-1 Employee Application eForm application following the instructions provided in the How to Use UC International Services eForms section.

TN STATUS (CANADIAN & MEXICAN)

Overview

Under NAFTA (North American Free Trade Agreement), Canadian and Mexican professionals may apply to enter the U.S. under the TN visa classification. The TN process for Canadian professionals (TN-1) does not require a visa application. The TN process for Mexican professionals (TN-2) requires a visa appointment with the U.S. Consulate. The result is that qualifying Canadian nationals trained in one of the published list of professions may obtain TN visa status and enter the U.S. in one day by applying at the U.S. port-of-entry. It will take Mexican nationals longer due to the need to have a visa prior to entry.

TN is a temporary employment status and therefore should not be used for tenure track positions. Departments wishing to bring international visitors to campus on TN status should write a visit letter detailing the nature of visit and the length of time for the employment (not to exceed 3 years). A letter should also be written to U.S. Customs and Border Protection addressing the requirements for the job and the qualifications of the visitor for TN status.

Application for extensions of the TN status may be filed with the DHS by mail, and are processed in 4-6 months. There is a $460.00 application fee for TN petitions submitted within the country. To save time and resources, it is recommended that the employee go back to the border/Consulate to obtain TN status in all cases.

Key TN Issues

Main procedural step: Apply at the U.S./Canadian border (TN-1) or US Consulate/Embassy (TN-2)

Initial duration of status: Three year maximum.

Total time-limit cap on category: No time cap.

Processing time: Instant approval.

Major advantage: Quick.

Major disadvantage: Not all professions qualify; can't be used for permanent positions.

TN eForm Application Process

The hiring department must create an iBearcatsGlobal record for the individual using the "Add New Person" link and submit a TN Employee Application eForm application following the instructions provided in the How to Use UC International Services eForm section.

OTHER STATUSES - EMPLOYMENT

Other Immigration Statuses that Allow for Employment

The previous pages discussed the most common employment visas that UC will see when hiring international workers. However, there are other statuses that allow individuals to be hired. These statuses do not require a specific eForm like E-3, H-1B, J-1, O-1 or TN statuses. However, the hiring department will be required to create an iBearcatsGlobal record for the prospective employee using the "Add New Person" link and submit the "Other Immigration Statuses" eForm. The employee will also need to be onboarded by UC International Services prior to the first day of employment. Please follow the instructions provided in the How to Use UC International Services eForm section.

Status	Description
ADJ	Individuals who have applied for permanent residence are generally referred to as being in the "Adjustment of Status" process. These individuals are legally allowed to be in the U.S. and can work with an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) issued by the Department of Homeland Security.
A-1	Head of State, government, official equivalent to U.S. cabinet members, presiding officer of a national legislative body, or member of a nation's highest judicial tribunal, ambassador, public minister, career diplomat, or consular officer accredited by a foreign government. This includes immediate family members (spouse and children). These individuals can work with an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) issued by the Department of Homeland Security.
EAD	In addition to individuals in the adjustment of status process and some other immigration statuses discussed in this section, there are other situations (like deferred action) that could allow an international visitor to obtain an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) issued by the Department of Homeland Security. Any international visitor with a valid EAD is permitted to work.
E-2	Spouse or dependent children of a Treaty Investor. Spouses can work with an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) issued by the Department of Homeland Security.
F-1	Non-UC students attending other institutions who are authorized for Optional or Curricular Training. Students on Optional Practical Training will have an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) issued by the Department of Homeland Security. Students on Curricular Practical Training will have an I-20 endorsed for employment at UC.
H-4	Spouse or an H-1B specialty worker. Spouse can work with an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) issued by the Department of Homeland Security. However, the spouse must meet specific criteria to qualify for the EAD (i.e., not all H-4 spouses can obtain an EAD).
J-1	Non-UC students attending other institutions who are authorized for Academic Training. Students on Academic Training will have a DS-2019 endorsed for employment at UC.
J-2	Spouse or dependent children of a J-1 exchange visitor. Both spouses and children can work with an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) issued by the Department of Homeland Security.
K-1	Fiance or Fiancee of a U.S. citizen. These individuals can work with an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) issued by the Department of Homeland Security.
L-2	Spouse or dependent child of an L-1 Intra Company Transferee. Spouses can work with an Employment Authorization Document (EAD) issued by the Department of Homeland Security.
TPS	Temporary Protected Status. These individuals are from countries which the Department of Homeland Security has designated as "countries in distress". These individuals can work with an Employment Authorization Document issued by the Department of Homeland Security.

PERMANENT RESIDENT PETITIONS

UC International Services offers immigrant visa processing assistance to all campuses. We will meet with all full-time faculty and professional staff, teaching and non-teaching, to discuss options for permanent residence, and will endeavor to assist in the immigrant visa process whenever possible. The University will provide full immigrant visa services for teaching faculty (actual classroom teaching must be involved), and for non-teaching permanent professional positions. Departments should not use outside counsel unless recommended to do so by UC International Services. When outside counsel is used, the hiring department MUST pay the attorney fees. UC International Services will not provide immigration assistance for applications based upon Outstanding Professor/Researcher, National Interest Waivers (NIW's), marriage to a U.S. citizen or other family based sponsorships, or the visa diversity lottery.

In order to qualify for permanent residence, the position must be full-time and defined as permanent by UC. A permanent position is one that does not have a definite termination point defined either by a date or the completion of a project or assignment, is not seasonal or intermittent, and is not presently intended or contemplated by the department to have some specified end date in the future. Please note that postdoctoral fellowships and "visiting" positions of any kind are not considered permanent by the university.

Before beginning this process, the department should make an appointment with UC International Services to discuss the procedures and specific requirements. If it is determined that the job and the employee meet the criteria for one of the permanent resident categories, UC International Services will work with the department to ensure that the minimum job requirements and offered salary are in compliance with Department of Labor (DOL) standards and formulate the appropriate advertising efforts. Upon completion of the recruitment efforts, the hiring department must submit a Permanent Resident eForm to UC International Services. There are separate eForms for teaching and non-teaching positions. See the section on How to Use eForms for further instructions. However, an understanding of the process is essential for success.

The permanent residency process for faculty and professional positions generally entails three phases. UC International Services assists with all three steps, which are: 1) Labor Certification; 2) UC's filing of an I-140 petition requesting an immigrant visa for the foreign national, once the Labor Certification Application is approved; and 3) the foreign national's filing of an I-485 application to adjust status to permanent residence.

It is essential that attention is paid to Labor Certification Application (LCA) filing deadlines with respect to requisite advertising timeframes and the foreign national's ability to preserve work eligibility and/or a non-immigrant status such as H-1B. For example, in order to request additional H-1B time beyond the initial six year limit, the LCA must be filed before the end of the fifth year of H-1B status. If no LCA is required, the I-140 must be filed prior to the end of the fifth year of H-1B status.

PERMANENT RESIDENT PETITIONS

Immigrant visas are allotted by the Department of State based upon the type of employment and the foreign national's country of birth. Information as to availability of immigrant visa numbers is provided in the Department of State's monthly Visa Bulletin, which can be accessed at http://travel.state.gov/visa/frvi/bulletin/bulletin_1360.html. The worldwide level for annual employment-based preference immigrants is at least 140,000. If there are more applicants than available visas, then the category is considered to be oversubscribed. If that is the case, a "priority date" is listed for the backlogged category, meaning that only applicants who have a priority date earlier than the cut-off date may be allotted an immigrant visa number. The foreign national's priority date is the date on which the LCA is filed, or if an LCA is not necessary, the date of the I-140 filing. An I-485 application cannot be filed (or, if pending, adjudicated) if the foreign national's priority date is not current.

Below is an overview of the Labor Certification process for teaching and non-teaching professional positions.

For Teaching Positions

- The job must include actual classroom teaching.
- The position must have been advertised in a national professional journal/publication. The ad can be a paper/print advertisement or may be electronic, if subscription or membership fees are not required to view the posting. When using the electronic advertisement option, the posting must be viewable for at least 30 days.
- The foreign national selected must have been found to have been more qualified than any U.S. workers who applied for the job. U.S. worker is defined as a U.S. citizen, U.S. national, permanent resident or temporary permanent resident, refugee or asylee.
- The formal offer letter must have been issued within 18 months of the date on which the labor certification application is submitted to the Department of Labor.
- Copies of the CVs received from all applicants must be retained and provided to UC International Services for the required audit file.
- A Report of Recruitment must be prepared, printed on UC letterhead, and signed by the Department Head.
- At least 30 days prior to the date on which the Labor Certification Application is filed for a faculty or any other union position, a notice of such a filing must be submitted to the union. When calculating the 18 month filing window, it is important to allow time for issuance of the aforementioned Notice of Filing.
- UC International Services must obtain a prevailing wage determination from the Department of Labor (DOL). This step may be done upon our receipt of the completed eForm and supporting documentation. The prevailing wage request is submitted online and a response is received generally within six weeks. When calculating the 18- month filing window, it is important to allow time for receipt of the prevailing wage determination. The hiring department must agree that the foreign national will be paid no less than the prevailing wage at the time the foreign national receives his/her green card.
- Additional recruitment efforts are not required, but, if conducted, should be indicated on the eForm and copies of the corresponding ads should be provided.

PERMANENT RESIDENT PETITIONS

For Non-Teaching Professional Positions

- In order to qualify for Labor Certification, the U.S. Department of Labor requires UC to prove that no minimally qualified U.S. workers are available to fill the position at the time of filing. U.S. worker is defined as a U.S. citizen, U.S. national, permanent resident or temporary permanent resident, refugee or asylee. Note: Individuals who meet all minimum requirements, but indicate they have accepted other employment or would not accept the UC position for any reason (offered salary or benefits, etc.), are not considered to be an "available U.S. worker."
- An applicant may not be rejected if the worker "can acquire the skills necessary to perform the duties involved in the occupation during a reasonable period of on-the-job training." No explanation is provided for the term "reasonable" period.
- UC International must obtain a prevailing wage determination from the Department of Labor (DOL). The prevailing wage request is submitted on-line and a response is received generally within four to six weeks. The Department must provide the following in order for UC International Services to formulate the prevailing wage request: specific job duties, minimum required academic degree level and field of study; amount and type of required work experience; amount and type of required training; required special skills and licenses. The hiring department must agree that the foreign national will be paid no less than the prevailing wage at the time the foreign national receives his/her green card.
- A job order for the position must be placed for 30 days on the Ohio Department of Labor's SCOTI (Sharing Career Opportunities & Training Information) system. The LCA cannot be filed until at least 30 days after the 30 day posting period has ended to allow sufficient time for applicant responses. UC International Services will assist the employing department with this process. Information about registration is found at https://scoti.ohio.gov/scoti_.lexs/employer/register. do and specific detail as to the job order placement is located at <http://jfs.ohio.gov/owd/flc/placingorder.stm>.
- The position must be advertised in two Sunday Cincinnati Enquirer editions. The ads can appear on two consecutive Sundays.
- Three additional recruitment steps must be selected from the following ten options: Job fairs; Employer's website; Job Search website other than employer's; On-campus recruiting; Print ad with trade or professional organization; Private employment firm; Employee referral program; Campus placement office; Local and ethnic newspapers; Radio and television advertisements. The employing department should consult with UC International Services as to the most appropriate types of advertising, the duration of the ads and related response times for applicants. It is possible that the Department of Labor may review the employer's choices for optional recruitment as to the reasonableness and likelihood that they are forums most likely to produce U.S. workers.
- None of the advertising efforts may have taken place more than 180 days prior to the filing of the Labor Certification Application. One of the three "additional recruitment steps" may take place within 30 days of the LCA filing.
- Copies of the CVs received from all applicants must be retained and provided to UC International Services for the required audit file.

PERMANENT RESIDENT PETITIONS

- A Report of Recruitment must be prepared, printed on UC letterhead, and signed by the Department Head.
- A notice of filing must be posted for ten consecutive business days in a conspicuous location where the foreign national will work, prior to the filing of the Labor Certification Application. If the sponsoring department normally recruits for similar positions through in-house media (electronic or printed), the "Notice of Filing" must also be placed in such media for 10 consecutive business days, or per the department's normal procedure, whichever is longer. The Labor Certification Application may not be filed any earlier than 30 days after the end of the required 10-day posting period.

Immigration Issues Arising in the Advertising, Search, and Appointment Process For Faculty Positions

United States citizens and lawful permanent residents of the United States (green card holders) are authorized to work permanently in this country. This guidance addresses the faculty search process as it interfaces with individuals who are neither U.S. citizens nor lawful permanent residents of the U.S. For purposes of this document, they are called foreign nationals.

Virtually every tenure-track faculty searches draws some foreign national applicants: students completing U.S. degrees, individuals working elsewhere in the U.S. or candidates from abroad. In some searches foreign nationals predominate the pool. Every year UC hires dozens of foreign nationals for tenure-track positions. Before the foreign national commences employment at UC, he or she must hold an appropriate visa classification, most frequently H-1B. Shortly thereafter, the university will seek a "labor certification" on behalf of that new foreign national faculty member. This is a determination by the U.S. Department of Labor that the individual was selected as the best qualified, available candidate pursuant to a full, fair and open search. In most instances labor certification is the prerequisite for the university's immigrant petition on that person's behalf and, ultimately, for the faculty member's application for permanent resident status and the derivative application(s) of his or her dependent family members.

For a labor certification to be granted the U.S. Department of Labor requires certain procedures to be followed. While they are not contrary to university policies or practices, they impose additional elements which must be precisely followed if we are to obtain a labor certification on behalf of our new faculty member. Consequently, to protect both the university (seeking to hire and retain the best faculty) and our faculty, (seeking to join UC and remain lawfully in the U.S.) the following guidance should be considered in every faculty search. Following these instructions will help ensure that the department/college will not have to conduct another search for a position that is already filled.

Advertising the Position

1. The position must have been advertised in a national professional journal. The ad can be in print or online. However, if the ad is online, the job listing MUST be viewable to the public without payment of subscription and/or membership fees. In addition, online ads must be posted for at least 30 calendar days. The hiring department must be able to provide documentation of all advertising, which includes a copy of the actual ad, as it appeared in the journal or online source. For print ads, a tearsheet/copy of the entire page containing the UC ad is required. Online ads should be printed from the website on at least the first day and last day on which the ad ran.

PERMANENT RESIDENT PETITIONS

2. At minimum, all ads should identify the university, the location of the employment (Cincinnati, Ohio), the position title and duties, and the minimum qualifications required. Needless to say, the successful candidate must meet all stated requirements, and all candidates who apply need to be evaluated against all stated requirements. It is not OK for any ads to merely state that multiple openings/positions are available, without a brief overview as to the job title, duties, and requirements for each position (per the regulations, which are attached). To do otherwise would constitute a pointer ad, which is not acceptable to the Department of Labor.
3. At minimum, the print ad should identify the university, the location of the employment (Cincinnati, Ohio), the position and the minimum qualifications required. Needless to say, the successful candidate must meet all stated requirements, and all candidates that apply need to be evaluated against all stated requirements.
4. The minimum qualification should identify the degree required, For example, a Ph.D. in "Civil Engineering" or a Ph.D. in Biochemistry, Molecular Biology or a related field". The ad should not merely ask for "an earned doctorate" without identifying the field or a set of related fields and the related fields should be limited in scope as positions that can be filled by a broad array majors will not qualify for H-1B specialty worker status.
5. If a candidate may be hired "ABD", state that. For example "a Ph.D. or ABD in Finance" or "the completion of all requirements for the Ph.D. in Chemical Engineering except for the dissertation". If the degree will be required by a specific date, indicate that too. For example, "a Ph.D. in Chemical Engineering is required by the date of hire." We may not obtain a "labor certification" if the successful applicant does not meet the standard specified in the ad.
6. If a sub-specialty is required, it must be stated (a degree in 20th Century French Literature for example).
7. If experience is required, it must be stated in measurable terms. For example, "two years post-doctoral experience in Animal Nutrition", or "two academic years of teaching experience in Physics".
8. If a professional license is required, it must be stated. ("a medical license is required by the date of hire").
9. It is advisable to not state "preferred" qualifications. The Department of Labor, charged with protecting the domestic labor market, views preferred qualifications as required qualifications because a domestic applicant who does not meet a preferred qualification would be deterred from applying. Consequently, if a qualification is truly required, state it; otherwise, do not.
10. Please avoid listing "ideal" qualifications or making vague references to qualifications which are neither quantified (measurable) or qualified.

Examples to AVOID include:

- "Diverse teaching experience and publications are highly desirable."
- "Prefer applicant to have experience serving a diverse population of open admissions undergraduates."

PERMANENT RESIDENT PETITIONS

- "A master's degree is required; a doctoral degree is preferred."
- "Transatlantic interests desirable."
- "Must have demonstrated a developing national reputation..."
- "Candidates must show evidence of commitment to research and excellence in teaching."
- "Should have extensive professional experience in subject area."
- "Proven record of undergraduate and graduate teaching and scholarly research."
- "Seeking an outstanding researcher in field."
- "Understanding of software/application." OR "Exposure to software/application."
- "The successful candidate should have post-doctoral research experience and a record of substantial research accomplishments."
- "Must have high-quality scholarly potential."
- "Emerging record of professional activity and teaching experience at the university level are required."
- "Demonstrate strong communication skills, and be able to work collaboratively with other professionals and students."

Examples to include:

- If a department wants someone who has published in his/her field, instead of saying "Must have demonstrated scholarly research potential," the ad should say "Must have at least two peer-reviewed publications in the field of insert name the field."
- If a department wants someone who has both research and teaching experience, instead of saying "Candidates must show evidence of commitment to research and excellence in teaching," the ad should say "Candidates must have one year of research experience in the area of identify area/field and two academic years of teaching insert subject matter at the university level, with documented positive student or colleague reviews."

The hiring department is responsible for printing documentation of all advertising related to the search.

11. When in doubt, please check with UC International Services before advertising to determine if anything placed in the ad will exceed what the Department of Labor considers to be "normal" which, in the event of a Labor Certification Application (LCA), would require documentation as to business necessity and likely would trigger an audit.

Visa Fees

The university wants to hire the best qualified applicant and does sponsor individuals for H-1B, TN, O-1 and E-3 visa classifications. A tenure track faculty position cannot be hired using the J-1 exchange visitor, TN or E-3 visa classifications. UC will also pursue permanent resident status via Labor Certification. The University (the hiring department) is responsible for paying all costs associated with employment visas for the candidate of choice. The department can choose to pay the application fees associated with dependents or have the candidate pay those fees. In the permanent resident process the hiring department is responsible for paying the I-140 application fee. The department can choose to pay the I-485 related fees and/or the fees associated with dependents or the department may choose to have the candidate of choice pay those fees. Candidates are often aware of visa-related issues and may raise these questions themselves asking what fees UC will or will not pay.

PERMANENT RESIDENT PETITIONS

Fees that can be paid by the candidate can become of source of negotiation between the hiring department and the candidate of choice. Search committees that encounter such questions can contact UC International Services for advice.

After Making an Offer

After making an offer to a faculty candidate who will need visa sponsorship, please contact UC International Services immediately for advice on the candidate's eligibility for employment at UC (both temporarily and on a permanent basis) and, if your offer is accepted, for instructions on how to submit the visa request using the iBearcatsGlobal system. The hiring department will need to complete the hiring process in Success Factors as well as submit the appropriate visa request in iBearcatsGlobal. Time, of course, is of the essence because, by law, a foreign national may not be employed unless he or she is authorized. (Furthermore, by law, an employer may not employ an individual without authorization).

After the faculty member joins the University, the hiring department will also work with UC International Services for assistance in obtaining a labor certification and permanent resident classification for that individual. The Labor Certification request must be filed with the Department of Labor with 18 months of the position offer date and the preliminary processes associated with Labor Certification take multiple months, so the process should be started early.

Any offer to a foreign national should include the statement that "This offer is contingent upon your having employment authorization from the U.S. Citizen and Immigration Services to assume this position. We will assist you in obtaining the appropriate visa classification. Tenure will be contingent upon obtaining permanent residence and we will assist you in obtaining permanent residence through Labor Certification. Other pathways to permanent residence can be pursued, however, UC International Services will not assist with processing those petitions."

Please note:

The University assumes a significant responsibility in undertaking visa sponsorship. Sponsorship must be consistent with applicable laws and regulations as well as with institutional guidelines. Consequently, University policy requires that departments process all immigration applications and petitions relating to foreign faculty and staff through UC International Services. A unit may not relinquish UC control of visa sponsorship to an outside attorney, even if an employee or prospective employee offers to pay for such services.

Preparing the Labor Certification Application, Immigrant Petition, Permanent Residence, UC International Services works closely with hiring units to prepare the application for labor certification, utilizing sample forms and letters for many of the supporting materials. Every fall it convenes chairs/heads, departmental secretaries or administrative assistants and the new foreign faculty members for an explanation of the process, the distribution of materials and a question and answer period. Following the approval of the labor certification, UC International Services works with the department and the faculty member to prepare the immigrant petition and file it for the university. In addition, UC International Services assists the foreign faculty member (and dependent family members) to prepare and file the application(s) to adjust status to permanent residence.

PERMANENT RESIDENT PETITIONS

Note: all advertised requirements must be included in a Labor Certification Application (LCA). Subjective advertised requirements, such as "must have demonstrated a developing national reputation" would need to be objectively described/quantified in the event an LCA is necessary.

Also Note: The sponsoring employer is not permitted to tailor the requirements to the foreign national's credentials. The Department of Labor is adamant that only actual minimum requirements be reported in an LCA. The regulations specifically state that the employer "must not have hired workers with less training or experience for jobs substantially comparable to that involved in the job opportunity." Thus, Departments must be consistent with prior hiring practices when setting minimum requirements.

Permanent Resident eForm Application Process

The hiring department must submit a Permanent Resident eForm application (the employee should already exist in the iBearsGlobal system, so there is no need to use the "Add New Person" link) following the instructions provided in the "Submitting Specific eForm Requests" section. In most cases this process can and should be started while other immigration petitions are being processed (H-1B petition for example).

ONBOARDING

Onboarding for International Workers

All international workers must be onboarded by UC International Services prior to beginning employment. International staff who have not been onboarded will not be allowed to attend HR orientation per HR policy. All international worker names (students, faculty and staff) must appear in Success Factors (must be hire complete) in order to be onboarded. All visa processing for faculty and staff must be completed prior to onboarding.

Students

Once they are in the Success Factors system, students must submit the "Employment Eligibility Verification/Social Security Letter Receiving a UC Paycheck" eForm to UC International Services. At that time, UC International Services will then send the links to the onboarding documents, with instructions for making an appointment for I-9 processing. Hiring departments should not instruct students to walk over to our office to be onboarded. We have an electronic eForm request process that must be followed. Students cannot begin work until UC International Services has verified the I-9 onboarding documents in Success Factors. Please be aware that our office can take up to five (5) business days to process the request.

Staff

International staff must attend HR orientation on the Monday of their first day of employment. All international staff must be "hire complete" and be in the Success Factors system and must have been onboarded by UC International Services by the Friday preceding attendance at HR orientation.

Faculty

International faculty must be onboarded by UC International Services prior to their first day of employment. All international faculty must be "hire complete" and be in the Success Factors system and must have been onboarded by UC International Services by the first day of employment. International faculty are not required to attend HR orientation.

Reverification

Many international workers have expiration dates on their immigration documents. An H-1B employee, for example, has an end date on the approved petition. Hiring departments must be aware of current expiration dates for employment and should timely process the appropriate eForm to extend the employee's stay ensuring that he/she stays legal and that there is no interruption in employment. Timely means 6 months in advance of the current expiration date.

VISITING DELEGATIONS AND NON-PAID VISITORS

Visiting Delegations and Non-paid Visitors

International visitors coming as part of a visiting delegation as well as any non-paid individual visitor must be on record with UC International Services. For visiting delegations (more than one visitor coming from the same institution) the Visiting Delegations eForm can be used to get the visitors on record with our office. For individual visitors the sponsoring department will be required to create an iBearsGlobal record for the prospective visitor using the "Add New Person" link and submit the "Other Immigration Statuses" eForm when the visitor will be paid or the "Visiting Scholar Request (unpaid visitors)" for those who won't be paid. Please follow the instructions provided in the How to Use UC International Services eForm section.

PROCESSING SECOND APPROVER REQUESTS

Many eForms submitted by a student/scholar for immigration benefits will require certification by an academic advisor. Requests submitted by departmental personnel in the hiring process in the iBearcatsGlobal system require certification by the department head. In these cases the advisor or department head is sent an email by the system that includes a link to the request. Some examples of situations that require certification of an academic advisor to include: Curricular Practical Training; Optional Practical Training; Program Extension; and Reduced Course Load. All requests for visitors who are non-students (paid or non paid) require certification by the department head. It is very important that the advisor or department head fully reviews the request and responds appropriately and timely. In some cases I-20's may be expiring soon or employees may need to work immediately. Prompt responses are necessary.

Here is how the process should work.

1. The advisor will receive an email about the request. The request type will be a live link and underlined. Click on the link.

Tips on accurately completing eForm requests

- Respond as quickly as possible. We have many student requests that stay pending advisor review for weeks. In some cases documents will be expiring soon or work needs to start quickly. Your prompt response is necessary.
- Click on the eForm name with the checkmark box next to it to fully view the student submission.
- Make sure the dates indicated by the student are accurate. If applying for a program extension make sure you agree with the timeline being proposed for program completion. If requesting CPT make sure the dates of the employment do not exceed the semester dates. Students can't start working before the semester begins or keep working after the semester is over.
- For CPT requests, make sure you indicate the correct title and course number for the course the student will be registered for during the CPT semester. Further, make sure the student enrolls for the course during that semester.
- Follow up separately with the department head for non-student visit requests to make sure he or she has received the email and to encourage him or her to respond quickly.

INTERNATIONAL SERVICES E-FORMS

How to Use UC International Services E-Forms

All requests for employment visas (E-3, H-1B, J-1, O-1, TN, etc.) or permanent residency petitions must be submitted using eForms through UC International Service's iBearcatsGlobal database. Anyone working at UC who is not a U.S. citizen or permanent resident must be added to the iBearcatsGlobal database and onboarded through UC International Services. This section will explain how to use iBearcatsGlobal and submit eForm requests. It is recommended that departments identify a staff person who will submit all eForm requests on their behalf. This will enable one person (or, in larger departments, perhaps two people) to become skilled in using the iBearcatsGlobal database.

Obtaining Access to Submit eForms

Departmental faculty/staff wishing to submit an eForm request must go to <https://ibearcatsglobal.uc.edu> and submit a "departmental access" request.

1. Users should click the "Administrative Services for University Departments" link. (Figure 6)

INTERNATIONAL SERVICES E-FORMS

- From here you will be prompted to enter your UC 6+2 username and password for the Central Login Service. (Figure 7)

The screenshot shows the 'Central Login Service' page. At the top left is the University of Cincinnati logo. The main title is 'Central Login Service'. Below it, a message says 'Authentication Required' and asks for UC Central Login Service Username and Password. It includes links for 'Get My Username' and 'Change My Password'. A 'Log In' button is at the bottom right of the input area. Below the input fields, there's a link for 'Forgot your password? Use Password Self Service or call 513-556-4919(4357)' and a red 'LOG OUT' button. At the bottom, a note states 'By using this service you agree to adhere to UC computing policies and guidelines.'

- Next, you will be asked to enter your UC network ID, your full name and email address. Use the dropdown box to select your campus (UC Main Campus, unless you work at UC Blue Ash or Clermont College). Then put your department name and click the "request access" button. (Fig. 8)

The screenshot shows the 'iBearcatsGlobal' website. The header features a world map and the text 'online services for international students, scholars & staff'. On the left, a sidebar menu includes 'Secure Online Session' (Ron Cushing, Campus: MDTN, Network ID: cushinrb), 'iStart Home Page', 'Departmental Services' (Employee Biographical and Address Verification, Add New Person eDSS Process, H-1B Employee Application, H-1B Employee Extension, J-1 Scholar Application, J-1 Scholar Extension, Permanent Residency), 'Department Access Request', 'iOffice Application', and 'Logout of iStart'. The main content area displays a message '--- Departmental Access Granted ---' and a note about approved requests for H-1B employees, J-1 scholars, and permanent residency petitioners. It shows form fields for 'Your Network ID' (cushinrb), 'Your Full Name' (Ronald Cushing), 'Your University E-mail' (cushinrb@email.uc.edu), 'Campus' (UC Main Campus), and 'Department' (International Services). A checkbox at the bottom left states 'I confirm that I am an administrator for the given department who is authorized by the department to submit employee request forms.' A timestamp '05/20/2008 10:58 AM' and a note about required fields ('* required fields') are also present.

4. Your request will be processed promptly and you will receive an email confirmation once your access has been granted (see sample email below).

Dear Ronald Cushing:

Your request for departmental access to iBearcatsGlobal for J-1, H-1B, and PR processing has been approved. You now have access to these services via OneStart - HRMS - Links - iBearcatsGlobal (International).

Obtaining a UC ID Number for eForm Submission

In order to submit an eForm request, the international visitor in question MUST have a UC ID number (M number) and have a record in UC International Service's iBearcatsGlobal database. In general, international visitors fall into one of three groups in iBearcatsGlobal:

1. those working for or being paid by the University;
2. those collaborating with, but who are not being paid by, the University;
3. those enrolled for classes. For each group there is a different way to generate a UC ID number and to get the visitor entered into iBearcatsGlobal.

Group 1 includes E-3, H-1B, J-1, TN, O-1 and other visitors who will be paid by UC. These individuals MUST be entered into Success Factors prior to submitting an eForm request. The individual must be added to iBearcatsGlobal using the "Add New Person" eForm, discussed below, once the M number is obtained.

Group 2 is for visitors (most typically J-1 Exchange Visitors) who will NOT be paid by UC. These are individuals coming to participate in collaborative projects using personal funds, government scholarships, home institutional support, or other sponsorships. It also includes those being paid by affiliates such as Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center. These individuals can have a UC ID number generated in two ways, depending upon how the sponsoring department wants them classified and what access to university facilities and systems they want given.

INTERNATIONAL SERVICES E-FORMS

Success Factors should be used to create the M number in cases where the traditional hiring process is being followed in order to assign a University title to the individual and to grant them access to things like BOL accounts, Blackboard, etc. The individual must be added to iBearcatsGlobal using the "Add New Person" eForm discussed below. (Figure 9)

The screenshot shows a web-based form titled "Create Identity" under the "Central Login Service" header. The "Create Identity" link is also present in the top left corner. The form includes fields for "First Name", "Middle Initial", "Last Name", "Date of Birth" (with a placeholder value of "ee. 01/01/2000"), "SSN" (with a note: "not providing SSN may cause a delay in the identity creation process"), "Sponsor" (with a placeholder value of "iubearcats"), and "Expiration Date" (with a placeholder value of "ee. 01/01/2004" and a note: "Expiration date may not be greater than two years from today"). A note at the top states: "Please fill out all required information to create an identity. All fields should be entered in proper case (not all caps). An asterisk * denotes a required field."

In cases where UC titles and access to certain services are not desired, the UC ID number can be generated in the GETit "create identity" system found at <https://www.uc.edu/ucauthenticate/login.aspx?target=createidentity>. When creating an ID using GETit, it is important to create the ID using a specific "badge type" and "title". The job "title" should be listed as "Visiting Scholar". "Special Programs" should be selected as the "badge type" if the visitor is coming to conduct research or engage in teaching. The "badge type" selected should be "Visiting Student" if the visitor is a graduate student overseas who is coming to UC to conduct research and will not be enrolled in classes.

Once the M number is generated, use the "Add New Person" eForm discussed below to add the individual to iBearcatsGlobal.

INTERNATIONAL SERVICES E-FORMS

The screenshot shows a web-based form for creating a new person record. The fields include:

- SSN: Input field with placeholder "ex. 01/01/2006". Below it is a note: "Not providing SSN may cause a delay in the identity creation process."
- Sponsor: Input field containing "iBearcats".
- Expiration Date: Input field with placeholder "ex. 01/01/2006". Below it is a note: "Expiration date may not be greater than two years from today."
- Department: Input field containing "International Services". Below it is a "Filter List by Department Name" section with a dropdown menu set to "International Services" and a "Search" button.
- Title/Program: Input field containing "Visiting Scholar".
- Badge Type: A dropdown menu currently set to "Special Programs".
- This is a badge request: A checked checkbox.

Copyright Information © University of Cincinnati

After you click "Continue," you will be asked to verify the information you have entered. You will then be notified by email when the ID number is generated. Please make note of the 6+2 username that is generated and add that to the iBearcatsGlobal system when creating the record.

Group 3 is for students who will be enrolled at UC, including exchange students. Degree students have an iBearcatsGlobal record created upon application to UC through an interface with Catalyst. Exchange students must have a Basic Data Form processed by the Registrar's Office. The M number will be sent to iBearcatsGlobal electronically within 24 hours. Make sure that the country of birth/citizenship fields are completed on the Basic Data Form or else the M number won't come over to iBearcatsGlobal. Questions about the Basic Data Form process for exchange students should be directed to International Services at international.students@uc.edu.

Once a UC ID has been created and the individual's basic information is in iBearcatsGlobal, the department can then submit the appropriate eForm.

Temporary ID's

In time sensitive cases the iBearcatsGlobal record can be created using a system generated "TEMP" ID. When completing the "Add new Person" request, just answer "No" to the question "do you have an institutional university ID for this new profile?" You must send an email to international.students@uc.edu once the M number has been generated so the iBearcatsGlobal record can be updated with the correct ID.

iBEARCATSGLOBAL FOR VISITORS

Creating an iBearcatsGlobal Record for Visitors

- Once authorized as a user and a UC ID has been generated for the visitor, departmental staff can then go to the "Departmental Services" link, click on the plus (+) sign to expand the eForm options, and select the "Add New Person" link. (Figure 10)

The screenshot shows the iBearcatsGlobal interface. At the top right is a logo with the text "iBearcatsGlobal" and "online services for international students, scholars & staff". On the left, there's a sidebar with a world map icon and the text "Secure Online Session Ron Cushing Network ID: cushinrb". Below this is the "iBearcatsGlobal Home Page". Under "Departmental Services", the "Overview" link is highlighted with a green box. Other links include "Add New Person", "Export Control Certification", "How to Add a New Employee/Visitor to iBearcatsGlobal", and "Other Immigration Statuses". The main content area is titled "Departmental Authorization | Pending Transactions". It contains a message about pending records for review, followed by sections for "RECORDS IN PENDING STATUS", "NO PENDING RECORDS FOR REVIEW", "Pending Records for Departmental Access", "Approved Records for Departmental Access", and "Denied Records for Departmental Access".

- Here, you will add the personal information for the visitor including: name; date of birth; gender; email address; campus (Main Campus, Clermont, etc.), the UC ID, and the network ID. Always add the network ID when it's known. If you obtain the UC ID through GETit, you will be sent the network ID in an email. Once all the information is added, click the "Add New Person" button. This enters the visitor into iBearcatsGlobal. Once entered, go back to the "Departmental Services" menu and click the appropriate eForm you wish to submit. (Figure 11)

The screenshot shows the "Add New Person" form. The left sidebar has "Add New Person" selected. The main form has fields for "Last Name", "First Name", "Middle Name", "Date of Birth" (with dropdowns for Month, Day, Year), "Gender", "Email Address", "Campus", and "Requested Immigration Status". Below these are two questions with radio buttons: "Do you have an institutional university ID for this new profile?" (YES or NO) and "Do you have a network ID for this new profile?" (YES or NO). A note at the bottom says "* required fields". At the bottom right is a "Add New Person" button.

SPECIFIC E-FORM REQUESTS

Submitting Specific E-Form Requests

Once you have obtained a UC ID number and the individual's basic information is in iBearcatsGlobal, you are ready to submit an eForm request.

You have options to submit visa-specific eForms including forms for: E-3 workers (for Australians), H-1B Specialty Workers, J-1 Exchange Visitors, O-1 Aliens of Extraordinary Ability, TN workers (for Canadian and Mexican nationals) or permanent resident petitions. There is also an eForm called "Other Immigration Statuses" that can be used for guest speakers and any international visitor authorized work in a status not listed above (students on Optional Practical Training from other schools, individuals with Employment Authorization Documents from Homeland Security, etc.). The "Visiting Scholar Request (unpaid visitors)" eForm is used for visitors coming in unpaid capacities for short periods of time (typically less than 90 days). Finally, there is an eForm called "Visiting Delegations" that can be used when multiple people are coming in a non-paid capacity from the same institution.

To submit an eForm request, you will go to the iBearcatsGlobal home page at <https://ibearcatsglobal.uc.edu>. Click on the "Departmental Services" link and then select the eForm you wish to submit. (Figure 12)

EMPLOYMENT VISAS

There are five specific immigration statuses that will apply to most UC international employees. Each of them will require processing of an immigration petition with the Department of Homeland Security or Department of State.

- H-1B specialty worker is the most common employment status and is designed for jobs that require a bachelor's degree or higher in a specific field of study.
- E-3 and TN status are similar to H-1B status but are designed specifically for Australian (E-3) and Canadian (TN) nationals, respectively.
- J-1 status can be used for individuals coming in both paid and non-paid status. There are multiple J-1 application eForms based on the purpose of the visit or the population you serve (UC verses Cincinnati Children's Hospital). Please make sure you select the correct J-1 application.
- O-1 status is designed for individuals with high stature in their field.

E-3, H-1B, O-1 and TN eForms

1. To submit an eForm for one of these statuses, you will first click on the "Employee Application" link appropriate for the status you are requesting. Each status will have its own employee link (E-3 Employee Application, H-1B Employee Application, O-1 Application; TN Application).

2. Next, you will be asked to enter the applicant's UC ID number and date of birth and click the "Find Record" button. (Figure 14)

The screenshot shows the 'iBearcatsGlobal' interface. The main content area is titled 'Lookup International Record' and contains instructions: 'Find an international profile record based upon the given University ID and Date of Birth. Please note you must have either an official University ID or a Temporary ID that is currently in this system.' Below this are input fields for 'University ID' (with a dropdown for Month, Day, Year) and 'Date of Birth' (with dropdowns for Month, Day, Year). A green-bordered 'Find Record' button is located to the right of the date fields.

3. You will then be brought to a screen that will tell you the sections that must be completed in order to fully submit the request. H-1B and E-3 applications have six (6) sections to complete while O-1 and TN applications have five (5) sections. H-1B and E-3 applications have an additional "Actual Wage List" section because these statuses require that UC pay the employee at least the average of all similarly-employed workers. Once you complete each section and submit it, a check mark will appear indicating that the section is complete. (Figure 15)

Applicant Information

The first section of any employment eForm is the “Applicant Information” section. The hiring department can complete this section or can grant access to the employee to complete the section. This is done by clicking the “Give the Applicant Access to Update This General Information” link. At this link, the applicant must enter the campus (Main, UC Blue Ash, Clermont), his/her email address, and a departmental email address. (Figure 16)

The screenshot shows the iBearcatsGlobal application interface. On the left, there's a sidebar with a "Secure Online Session" icon, the user's name "Ron Cushing", and their campus "Main" and network ID "cushinrb". Below this are links for "iStart Home Page", "Departmental Services" (which is expanded to show "Employee Biographical and Address Verification", "Add New Person eDoc Process", "H-1B Employee Application", "H-1B Employee Extension", "J-1 Scholar Application", "J-1 Scholar Extension", "Permanent Residence", and "Departmental Access Request"), and "Office Application" (which is collapsed). The main content area has a title "Applicant Access to Update Biographical / General Information" and a sub-instruction "MAIN VALUE: J-MQQUQUQUQU J-JOSEPH.BEACAT@UC.EDU". It explains that this will send an email to the applicant to give them access to update the H-1B Applicant Information section of the H-1B application. It asks for the applicant's current email address and a departmental email address. There are dropdown menus for "Campus" and "Departmental Email Address", and input fields for "Applicant's Email Address" and "Departmental Email Address". A note says "* required fields". A "Send E-mail" button is at the bottom right.

GIVE THE CLIENT ACCESS TO COMPLETE THIS SECTION

H-1B specialty workers are employed in many positions at the University of Cincinnati including: Professors (tenure track or adjuncts); postdoctoral fellows; and many other positions. The position MUST require at least a bachelor's degree in a SPECIFIC field of study. Jobs that don't require a degree in a specific field (i.e. Liberal Arts or a wide range of fields), do not qualify for H-1B specialty worker status.

The application process for hiring an international visitor on H-1B specialty worker status is a cooperative effort between the hiring department, UC International Services and the H-1B beneficiary. This section covering general H-1B applicant information can be completed by either the department or the applicant. If the department wishes the applicant to complete this section then please use the following link to give the applicant access to this section and send them an email.

General information about H-1B regulations including job and wage requirements, application fees, processing times, etc. can be found on our website at the link below. We encourage all departments and prospective H-1B employee's to read this information prior to submitting a request for H-1B status.

Supporting documents for an H-1B application should be scanned and uploaded as part of the H-1B request. If the worker has dependents in the U.S., the I-539 form is required to request or extend H-4 status for dependents and supporting documents (evidence of current status, including USCIS approval notices, front and back of the current I-94 card, passport biographic page and extension page if applicable, current visa, marriage certificate for spouses and birth certificate for children, DS-2019's and waiver for current or previous J status) should be sent in the PDF document with all other materials. The originally signed I-539 should be brought to the appointment with checks for the I-129 and I-539 application fees.

Position Information

The "Information about the University Position" section contains all of the critical information about the job being offered including title, salary, start date and end date, duties, etc. This section also includes information about the educational and experience requirements. (Figure 25)

 iBearcatsGlobal online services for international students, scholars & staff

Information about the University Position

We recommend that all departments read the link below for "H-1B Instructions and Regulations" before proceeding with submitting any sections of the H-1B eForm. When requesting a start date for staff keep in mind that employees are required to attend a Monday orientation with Human Resources prior to officially beginning work.

When completing questions about the University position departments should keep in mind that requiring experience, skills or special knowledge above the minimum degree will likely increase the Department of Labor's prevailing wage Determination. You should report the minimum requirements for the position, not the experience or skills the person you are hiring might have.

If the H-1B specialty worker is a physician who will be providing patient care a license to practice medicine in the State of Ohio and an ECFMG certificate are required and must be submitted with all required documents. If the H-1B specialty worker will be providing patient care and is not a graduate of an American medical program, evidence that the H-1B specialty worker passed the Federal Licensing Examination (FLEX) or the U.S. Medical Licensing Examination (USMLE) Parts I, II, and III or the National Boards of Medical Examiners Certifying Examinations, Parts I, II, and III must be submitted.

A composite letter from the hiring department must be submitted as detailed below. A copy of the letter must be scanned and uploaded as part of this request. The original letter will need to be brought to the final appointment for processing of the petition.

The Composite Letter should be signed by the Department Head and should include:

- 1) A statement asking UC International Services to begin paperwork for the H-1B petition.
- 2) Specifics of the offer including the dates of the employment being requested, salary and a brief description of the job duties.
- 3) An explanation of why this candidate was selected for the job. The explanation should include items such as education, experience, special knowledge, background, etc. which justify hiring him/her over other candidates.
- 4) Certification that the hiring department: a) agrees to comply with all terms of the LCA until the end date; and b) agrees to furnish return trip airfare home if the employee's employment is terminated before the end date on the I-129 application.

NOTE: Sample letter is linked below.

When hiring an H-1B Specialty Worker, UC is required to certify that we have reviewed various export control regulations to determine whether an Export License is required before controlled technology or technical data is released to a foreign national during the course of their employment. All departments will need to complete the "Checklist for Export Controls Issues for Hiring International Workers" form linked at the bottom. It should be scanned and uploaded or faxed to 513-556-2990 as part of this request.

TYPE OF APPLICATION

Please select the type of H-1B application you are requesting.

Is this application for a prospective employee who does not currently hold H-1B immigration status and does not work at UC, OR who currently holds another immigration status at UC (such as F-1/OPT)? YES NO

Is this application for a prospective employee who currently holds H-1B immigration status for another employer and wants to transfer to UC? YES NO

Is this application for a prospective employee who currently holds H-1B immigration status for another employer and wants to concurrently work for UC and the current employer? YES NO

Is this application an extension for a current UC employee who holds H-1B status who will be continuing in the same job? YES NO

Is this application for a current UC employee who holds H-1B status who is changing jobs or departments? YES NO

EMPLOYMENT VISAS

The section begins with a series of questions to determine the type of petition that is being submitted. Departments must indicate if the petition is for someone who:

- Does not currently hold the immigration status being requested or work at UC;
- Currently holds the immigration status for another employer and wants to transfer to UC;
- Currently holds the immigration status for another employer and wants to concurrently work for UC and the current employer;
- Is a current UC employee who holds the immigration status and who will be continuing in the same job;
- Is a current UC employee who holds the immigration status and who is changing jobs or departments; or,
- Is a current UC employee who currently holds the immigration status who is taking on additional duties (like a research associate who now wants to teach a class, etc.);
- Is a current UC employee who holds H-1B status and is changing jobs or departments.
- Will the employee provide clinical services for UC Physicians

Next, the department must indicate if premium processing is being requested for the petition. If premium processing is necessary for business reasons, the hiring department must pay the fee. If it's required for personal reasons, the applicant can pay the fee. (Figure 26)

PREMIUM PROCESSING

To request premium processing of an H-1B petition an additional fee of $1,000 (payable to the Department of Homeland Security) is required. Paying the premium processing fee will ensure a 15 processing time once the petition is submitted to Homeland Security. The H-1B employee can not pay this fee unless the expedited approval is necessary for personal reasons (i.e. travel, etc.). If the expedited approval is necessary for business reasons (i.e. you want the employee to begin work quickly) the hiring department must pay this fee. Premium processing is not necessary in cases where the employee already holds H-1B status in the U.S. These individuals can start working once a receipt is received from Homeland Security for the UC position.

Will you be requesting premium processing of this application? YES NO

EMPLOYMENT VISAS

The "Position Information" section asks for information about the job title, classification, duties, salary, experience and education required, etc. As part of this section, the hiring department will be required to write an offer specific to the H-1B or E-3 employment period and upload the letter as part of the request. In addition, the "Checklist for Export Control Issues for Hiring International Workers" form must be completed and uploaded as part of the request. Please remember that both the visitor's supervisor and the Department Head must attest to the given answers' accuracy by signing the form. The checklist is linked at the bottom of the eForm. Actual Wage Determination Information

Please complete the information below for workers who are similarly employed to the H-1B applicant. Similarly employed means individuals who have similar skills, qualifications and job duties (not necessarily the same job title).

Under the terms set out by the U.S. Department of Labor, we are required to show that the H-1B worker will be paid the higher of either:

The prevailing wage for the occupation in the area of employment as determined by the state DOL (see below) OR the actual wage currently being paid by the employer for the occupation at the place of employment.

UC International Services will obtain prevailing wage documentation by sending a formal request to the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services (ODJFS) or the DOL for the state of intended employment if outside of Ohio. The prevailing wage is determined by ODJFS by taking into consideration the geographic location of the work site, the required degree-level and experience, nature of the employee's work, special skills and supervisory responsibilities, etc.

In order to establish the actual wage, we will require the hiring department's assistance by completing the following information for each similarly employed worker in your department.

The following factors can be used to differentiate an H-1B worker's wage with respect to their similarly employed colleagues: work experience; qualifications; education; job responsibilities; specialized knowledge; other legitimate business factors.

Please direct any concerns or questions related to this form, to UC International Services. We would be happy to assist you further.

Export Control Certification

All requests for processing of an employment petition require an Export Control Certification. This eForm is essential to ensure that UC has the proper export authorizations in place, if the foreign national will be exposed to export controlled items, technology, software, and or information. The departmental contact completing the request will likely need to work with the supervising faculty member to obtain the correct answers to this section. It is important that you not complete the Export Control Certification eForm until the Application and Position sections of the request are completed. Information about the application and the position are necessary to do a complete export control review.

When follow up is required, supervisors will be contacted directly by International Services or the Export Control Office. Delays in responding to requests from International Services and or Export Controls could result in additional delays in visa processing times. (Figure 29)

Departmental Certification

All requests for processing of an employment petition MUST be certified by the Department/Division Head. Enter the required information about the Head and click the "Submit Section" button. The Department/Division Head will receive an email asking him/her to review the request and certify departmental compliance with Department of Labor regulations. The Head must review and certify the record using the link and login information provided, before the petition will be processed. (Figure 30)

The H-1B regulations require the employer to assume numerous legal responsibilities in order to be approved to hire an H-1B employee. This request must be electronically certified by an administrative person at the level of Department Head or higher, to acknowledge the division/department's willingness to comply with all federal and University H-1B requirements.

J-1 Program Information (Visiting Scholar)

MAIN PAGE | M99999999 | JANE WANG

This section covers information about the J-1 program, site of activity, and the hosting department. Departments must submit to UC International Services a letter of invitation detailing the activities, dates of the program, and salary (if applicable). The letter of invitation must be attached with any other financial documents to the "J-1 Financial Information" form. The J-1 request will not be processed unless a letter of invitation is submitted.

If the Exchange visitor is a student at an overseas school coming to do research (i.e. not register for classes), the "Non-Degree Student" category should be selected and a letter from the overseas school indicating the status of the student in the program and applicability of the research at UC to that program of study is required. The letter must be attached to "J-1 Financial Information" form, along with any financial documents. The J-1 request for Non-Degree Students conducting research will not be processed without this letter.

When hiring a J-1 exchange visitor as an employee, UC is required to certify that we have reviewed various export control regulations to determine whether an Export License is required before controlled technology or technical data is released to a foreign national during the course of their employment. All departments will need to complete the Checklist for Export Controls Issues for Hiring International Workers form linked at the bottom if the J-1 exchange visitor coming will be a paid employee of UC. The form should be scanned and uploaded or faxed to 513-256-2990 as part of this request.

Select the method of mailing for the DS-2019. Departments that wish to express mail the DS-2019 should use the EshipGlobal site to make an express mail reservation or select the box to have the department called to pick up the documents. To use EshipGlobal, go to <https://study.eshipglobal.com>. A credit card and the UC ID of the visitor is needed to use EshipGlobal. UC International Services will be notified when a reservation is created.

Financial Support

J-1 Exchange Visitors must demonstrate financial support of at least $18,000 per year in order to be issued a DS-2019. An additional $4,000 per year is necessary for a spouse and $2,000 for each child. Proof of financial support must be uploaded in PDF file format as part of the request. An offer letter on UC letterhead is sufficient in cases where University support is being offered. In other cases, the financial support should be obtained from the Exchange Visitor prior to submitting this section. (Figure 36)

3-1 Financial Information

This section covers information about J-1 exchange visitor's financials. Please provide UC International Services with documentation for ALL funding sources that will be used to support the exchange visitor's stay at UC. You will be required to scan and upload the financial documents as part of this request.

Documentation for funding from UC may be included in the departmental letter of invitation. Documentation from other sources should be provided on institutional letterhead with a translation in English.

If personal funds will be used to support the exchange visitor's stay, a personal bank statement can be provided to show proof of the availability of funds.

Funding for Exchange Visitors must demonstrate a minimum of $12,000 per year for the scholar, $4,000 per year for the first accompanying dependent, and $2,000 per year for each additional dependent. Students who will be enrolled in classes must also demonstrate the amount necessary to cover tuition costs.

Please note that the exchange visitor may be required to show proof of finances again at the time of application for a U.S. entry visa at the U.S. Consulate.

SOURCE OF FUNDING

In boxes with the ($U.S. Dollars) notation put total amounts only. Do not put commas, $ signs, names of support providers or per year or per month notations. For example, if someone is getting $25,000 per year for three years, put 75000, not $25,000 per year. Use the drop down boxes or text fields to indicate the sources of support where appropriate. You must scan and upload the proof of financial support with this request. If the UC department is supporting the exchange visitor the proof of financial support is a copy of the offer letter. All other sources of support must be obtained from the exchange visitor prior to submitting this request. If support is not coming from UC make sure you attach a copy of the invitation letter from UC to the financial documents.

Funding by the University of Cincinnati would include an employee paycheck, money for food or lodging, or support for benefits (health insurance; tuition remission, etc.).

Export Control Certification

All requests for processing of a J-1 exchange visitor require an Export Control Certification. This eForm is essential to ensure that UC has the proper export authorizations in place, if the foreign national will be exposed to export controlled items, technology, software, and or information. The departmental contact completing the request will likely need to work with the supervising faculty member to obtain the correct answers to this section. It is important that you not complete the Export Control Certification eForm until the Application and Position sections of the request are completed. Information about the application and the position are necessary to do a complete export control review.

When follow up is required, supervisors will be contacted directly by International Services or the Export Control Office. Delays in responding to requests from International Services and or Export Controls could result in additional delays in visa processing times. (Figure 38)

 PENDING STATUS *****

This request is currently under review by the international office staff. You will be notified once the request is processed. There is no need to submit another Departmental J-1 Compliance Certification until this one is processed.

This section of the request has been queued for review by the UC International Services once the entire application has been finalized and submitted by the department.

The J-1 regulations require the institution to assume numerous legal responsibilities in order to be approved to sponsor a J-1 exchange visitor. UC International Services has responsibility for ensuring institutional compliance with these regulations, but departments must agree to follow established University procedures in order to ensure compliance. This request must be electronically certified by an administrative person at the level of Department/Division Head or higher, to acknowledge the department's willingness to comply with all federal and University J-1 requirements.

J-1 Program Extensions

J-1 Exchange Visitors have specific limits on the amount of time they can remain in the U.S. on Exchange Visitor status. Professor and Research Scholars have a five-year maximum stay. Non-degree students have a two-year maximum stay. Short-term scholars have a six-month maximum stay and specialists have a one-year maximum stay. Requests for extensions must be submitted at least 5 business days prior to the expiration of the current DS-2019. The department must click on the "J-1 Program Extension" link under "Departmental Services." You will be asked to verify the current biographical and address information on file for the visitor, select a new program end date, and indicate if the Exchange Visitor will be traveling, etc. The proof of continued funding will also need to be uploaded and forwarded to UC International Services as a PDF document. Next, click the "Submit Request" button.

The Exchange Visitor will be notified when the extension is processed. If the Exchange Visitor is being paid by UC, then he/she will need to have his/her I-9 revised, which may require an appointment with a UC International Services Advisor. (Figure 41)

OTHER IMMIGRATION STATUSES

Most international workers will require the submission of a specific eForm in order to notify UC International Services of the need to process a petition for attainment of an immigration status that will allow for employment. However, there are some visitors who will be working for UC who will already have proper work authorization and will not need to have a specific immigration petition submitted on their behalf. Most typically, these will be individuals who, for various reasons, have an Employment Authorization Document issued by the Department of Homeland Security. It will also include F-1 students on Curricular Practical Training and J-1 students on Academic Training from other schools. These visitors will need to be onboarded prior to their first day of employment, and the information contained in the "Other Immigration Statuses" eForm will need to be submitted before onboarding can occur. This eForm also needs to be submitted for guest speakers requiring payment in the form of an honorarium. This eForm has four (4) sections: Other Immigration Statuses Application; Departmental Contact; Export Control Certification; and Departmental Certification.

Other Immigration Statuses Application

This eForm has four sections: (1) The Other Immigration Statuses Request; (2) Departmental Contact; (3) Export Control Certification; (4) Departmental Certification. The Other Immigration Statuses Request will ask for information about the purpose of the visit, biographical information about the visitor, immigration information, and position information (if applicable).

Primary Purpose of Visit

The first section of this eForm asks the sponsoring department to indicate the primary purpose of the visit. How this question is answered is critical as it will determine the next steps for the visitor upon arrival. In most cases, the individual will be required to have an in-person check-in with UC International Services upon arrival in Cincinnati. However, some individuals coming in non-paid, non-enrolled statuses may only be required to supply documentation of their status and will not be required to have a formal check-in. Answer the yes/no questions as appropriate for the purpose of the visit. (Figure 42)

OTHER IMMIGRATION STATUSES

Export Control Certification

All requests for processing of the Other Immigration Statuses eForm require an Export Control Certification. This eForm is essential to ensure that UC has the proper export authorizations in place, if the foreign national will be exposed to export controlled items, technology, software, and or information. The departmental contact completing the request will likely need to work with the supervising faculty member to obtain the correct answers to this section. It is important that you not complete the Export Control Certification eForm until the Application and Position sections of the request are completed. Information about the application and the position are necessary to do a complete export control review.

When follow up is required, supervisors will be contacted directly by International Services or the Export Control Office. Delays in responding to requests from International Services and or Export Controls could result in additional delays in visa processing times. (Figure 47)

The screenshot shows a web page titled "iBearcatsGlobal" with a world map graphic. To the right, it says "online services for international students, scholars & staff". A "Secure Online Session" icon is visible. The main title is "Export Control Certification for Other Immigration Statuses". A paragraph explains the University's commitment to compliance with federal regulations and its export control program. It states that the eForm is essential to ensure UC has the proper export authorizations in place. Another note at the bottom says "DO NOT COMPLETE THE EXPORT CONTROL CERTIFICATION SECTION OF THIS REQUEST UNTIL YOU HAVE COMPLETED THE DEPARTMENTAL CONTACT, INFORMATION ABOUT THE POSITION, APPLICANT INFORMATION AND ACTUAL WAGE SECTIONS OF THIS EFORM GROUP.". A question asks if the job/project is funded by a corporate or government grant/sponsor, with "YES" and "NO" radio buttons. The "NO" button is selected.

VISITING SCHOLAR REQUEST (UNPAID VISITORS)

The Visiting Scholar Request (unpaid visitors) eForm is to be used when an individual visitor is coming in a non-paid capacity (use the Other Immigration Statuses eForm when the visitor will be paid). There are four (4) sections that comprise the Visiting Scholar Request (unpaid visitors) eForm.

Visiting Scholar Request (Unpaid)

The Visiting Scholar Request (unpaid visitors) eForm request is designed for individuals coming to UC in unpaid capacities for short-periods of time (typically 90 days or less). The eForm group has four sections including: Visiting Scholar Applicant Information; Visiting Scholar Request; Export Control Certification; and Departmental Certification.

Applicant Information

The first section of the eForm group is the "Visiting Scholar Applicant Information" section. The sponsoring department can complete this section or can grant access to the visitor to complete the section. This is done by clicking the "Give the Applicant Access to Update This General Information" link. At this link, the applicant must enter the campus (Main, Raymond Walters, Clermont), his/her email address, and a departmental email address. The applicant or department must first enter the proposed dates of the visit. (Figure 49)

Visiting Scholar Applicant Information

GIVE THE CLIENT ACCESS TO COMPLETE THIS SECTION

This section of the visiting Scholar Request can be completed by the sponsoring department or the applicant. If the department wishes to ask the applicant to complete this section, access can be emailed to the visitor. To do this, you will need to provide the applicant with his/her UC ID number and have him/her go to <https://ibearcatsglobal.uc.edu>. There, the applicant should click on the "Limited iBearsGlobal Services" link and enter his/her UC ID number and date of birth. Then he/she should click the "Departmental Services" link, and then the "Visiting Scholar Applicant Information" link.

VISITING DELEGATION E-FORM

The Visiting Delegation Request is to be used when multiple people are coming from the same institution in non-paid capacities. Any visitors from a delegation that will receive honoraria or other payments must be individually added and the Other Immigration Statuses eForm must be submitted. Before submitting the Visiting Delegation eForm, please contact UC International so a record can be created for the institution.

Visiting Delegation Request

The Visiting Delegation eForm is to be used when more than one person is coming from the same institution in a non-paid capacity (use the Other Immigration Statuses eForm when one person is coming or someone in the delegation will be paid). There are four (4) sections that comprise the Visiting Delegation eForm.

The first section is the Visiting Delegation Request. In this section you will indicate the name of the institution the visitors are coming from, the dates of the visit, the purposes of the visit and the names and dates of birth for all visitors. You will required to upload a copy of each visitor's passport bibliography page (including expiration date) as part of this request. (Figure 55)

The screenshot shows a web-based form titled "Visiting Delegation Request". At the top left is a world map graphic. To its right is the "iBearcatsGlobal" logo with the tagline "online services for international students, scholars & staff". Below the logo is a "Secure Online Session" icon. The main title "Visiting Delegation Request" is centered above the form fields. A descriptive text block explains that the eForm is for UC college/departments hosting visitors from overseas institutions in a non-paid capacity, noting that visitors receiving financial support must be individually added. It also states that the form must be submitted at least 60 days before arrival. Another text block asks if visitors will come more than once in the next 12 months, with "YES" and "NO" radio buttons. The form includes fields for "Name of the Institution's home country", "Expected arrival date" (with dropdown menus for Month, Day, and Year), "Expected departure date" (with dropdown menus for Month, Day, and Year), and a question "Do you expect the visitors to come more than once during the next 12 calendar months?" with "YES" and "NO" radio buttons. The "YES" button is selected.

This eForm should be completed by any UC college/department interested in hosting visitors from an overseas institution in a non-paid capacity. If UC will be providing financial support to any visitors (honoraria or other payments for providing limited services), those visitors must be individually added to iBearcatsGlobal system and the Other Immigration Statuses eForm must be submitted.

In order to process and facilitate international visits, we ask you to carefully review, complete and submit the form below at least 60 days prior to the planned arrival of the delegation. All sections of the eForm must be completed.

Please indicate if you expect the visitors to come to UC more than once during the next 12 calendar months. In such cases this eForm only needs to be submitted once for all visits during that year period. If there are more than 12 months in between visits, you need to submit this request prior to the next visit.

You will be required to submit a copy of the bibliography page of each visitor's passport as part of this request. The bibliography page is the page with their photo and validity dates for the passport. Please do not attempt to submit this eForm until you have the passport copies.

Approvals and Processes

The Departmental Contact, the Department/Division Head, and the individual being hired will all be notified via email when an application has been processed. Applications are processed on a first-come, first-served basis. J-1 applications can typically be completed in 5 business days as are "Other Immigration Status" eForms. However, be advised that other employment petitions (H-1B, E-3, O-1, etc.) have multiple processes that must be completed that will take several months to finish, even if premium processing is requested. Permanent residency petitions take even longer to process. Departments should be prepared for this and submit requests early.
