

INSTRUCTIONS/APPLICATION FOR REINSTATEMENT TO STUDENT STATUS

An F-1 student who has overstayed his or her authorized period of stay, or has otherwise failed to maintain F-1 student status, may be reinstated to lawful F-1 status, at the discretion of the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services, only if the student:

1. Is currently pursuing, or intends to pursue, a full course of study at a school which issues the student a Form I-20;
2. Has not been employed without authorization;
3. Establishes that his or her failure to maintain student status was due to circumstances beyond his or her control, or that failure to receive reinstatement would result in "extreme hardship";
4. Is not deportable on any ground other than overstaying or failing to maintain status;
5. Has not been out of status for more than five (5) months;
6. Is not a multiple (repeat) offender.

When you can show clearly that the violation of the rules happened for reasons beyond your control or that the violation was merely technical and not serious, the USCIS is likely to forgive your violation and return you to status. You can also be reinstated if you can show that failure to regain status would result in serious hardship for you. Regardless of the facts you present to USCIS, you should include a discussion of the hardship to you if you are not reinstated.

Prepare a statement using these instructions to explain what happened and why it was not your fault. If you did not know that you were breaking any rule, you should say so, but do not expect to be returned to status for that reason alone. Most of the rules were written on page two of your original I-20, and you were supposed to read and follow them.

In general, USCIS will not approve a reinstatement for a student who has been out of status for more than five months. Many students in this situation still want to try for reinstatement anyway. If you have been out of status for more than five months and want to apply for reinstatement please make sure you explain the reason for your delay in filing in an appropriate timeframe and try to document that the delay was caused by circumstances beyond your control. You will also have to pay the $200 SEVIS fee prior to applying for reinstatement.

Think carefully when you write. A USCIS officer will read what you write and decide whether to accept your justification as to why reinstatement should be granted. Do not leave out any important facts and be sure to talk about the violation mentioned at the top of page three. If you have always been a full-time student, this is an important fact in your favor, so do not forget to say so. If you expect to be reinstated, you must also promise to be a full-time student in the future. After you finish your statement, be sure to sign it.

If you have worked off-campus without authorization, you cannot be reinstated, unless the work was pursuant to a scholarship, fellowship, or assistantship. If you worked off-campus without authorization, or worked on-campus more than 20 hours a week when school was in session, reinstatement is possible, though you must show that the violation was not deliberate or not your fault, and that it will not happen again. If you have worked without authorization, you MUST say so in your statement.

After reading your statement, if we feel that you will have no chance of success, we may advise you NOT to apply for reinstatement, but to effect new status through travel outside the United States and return.

Evidence can be very important in helping you to get reinstated. If you can think of any kind of evidence from an independent source, such as a letter from home, newspaper clippings about conditions at home, your transcript, or anything else related to your reasons justifying reinstatement, attach it to the papers you return to us.

You will also need to complete the I-539 Form, found on the USCIS website at www.uscis.gov. It is imperative that the I-539 is completed correctly, and we will review it for accuracy. You should complete the printable version of the I-539 so all the data is neatly presented. Copy the printable version you have completed to your computer in case changes have to be made following our review. There is a $370 application fee that will need to be paid when filing the I-539.

After your request is submitted to USCIS, you may wait for several months for an answer. The answer will be sent to you directly. You must inform UC International Services immediately upon receiving your answer from USCIS. While the application is pending, you are required to be attending classes full time.

All other privileges and benefits as an F-1 student will be suspended at this school and any other school to which you might transfer until you are reinstated. It is unlawful for a foreign student adviser who believes that you have violated status to allow you to start working on-campus or to engage in practical training. If necessary, we will issue you a Form I-20 for travel outside the United States before you receive an answer from USCIS.

In order to process a request for reinstatement of F-1 status, you will need to complete the following steps:

1. Obtain a new Form I-20 from the University of Cincinnati issued for the purpose of "Reinstatement."
 - a. In order to obtain an I-20, you must hold active status in a University of Cincinnati program, provide documentation from the program that establishes what your graduation date will be, and provide our office with proof of financial support for the remainder of your program of study.

1. Option #1: Payment by Credit Card

DHS has set up a website on the Internet to accept electronic submission of Form I-901 and payment of the SEVIS fee using a credit card. Go to www.fmjfee.com. We strongly recommend that you use this option if possible. Follow the online instructions. Print out the payment screen to verify your payment and send it to us as part of your supporting documentation. Do not leave that screen until you have printed the payment receipt. You will not be able to return to that screen.

2. Option #2: Payment by Check or Money Order

When paying by check or money order, there are two options:

- a. Internet-generated coupon. Students can go to the fee payment web-site (<http://www.fmjfee.com>), enter basic information, print out a coupon, and then mail a check or money order with the coupon to a lock-box address in Missouri. Once the information and fee are processed, SEVIS will then be updated with the fee payment information.
- b. Paper option. Students can download or otherwise obtain Form I-901, fill it in, and mail it, with a check or money order, to the specified address in Missouri. Once the information and fee are processed, SEVIS will then be updated with the fee payment information.

In both cases, a receipt notice will be issued when the fee is processed. The mailing addresses for paying by check or money order, using the coupon or the paper Form I-901, are:

P.O. Box Address:

I-901 Student/Exchange Visitor Processing Fee
P.O. Box 970020
St. Louis, MO 63197-0020

Street Address for Courier/Express Delivery:

I-901 Student/Exchange Visitor Processing Fee
1005 Convention Plaza
St. Louis, MO 63101

Check Specifics:

All checks and money orders must be:

- Payable to the "I-901 Student/Exchange Visitor Processing Fee".
- Only checks and money orders may be used when paying by mail.

The check or money order must be made in U.S. dollars and drawn on a bank located in the United States.
