Accessibility for Syllabi

Color

When color is being used to convey information, make sure an alternative is also provided to explain the information. For more information, refer to the Accessibility for Syllabi KB article.

Use of Color Only:

2006 SAT vs ACT Map of Test Preference by State

This map of the United States shows the states in which (blue color) more seniors in the class of 2006 took the SAT than the ACT, and the states in which (orange color) more seniors took the ACT than the SAT.
Use of Color and Pattern:

This map of the United States shows the states in which (blue/dotted color) more seniors in the class of 2006 took the SAT than the ACT, and the states in which (orange/solid color) more seniors took the ACT than the SAT.