1. Is this a group that can help - yes - Engineering, Pre-Engineering - 2 year programs - they have a lot of engineers asking about transfers.

2. OCAS - they, too will have concerns.

3. We have to make sure that people attending meetings will be disseminate information to others.

4. On issues, which ones should be addressed? We could take colleges one by one and see how they handle it. Consensus is that a group of this sort should be formed.

5. What about structure of college - admission, registration? We are not talking about student services - we are talking about academic advising. (At some colleges, advising is under student services.) We could limit the numbers of representatives to 1-3 per college. Each college would decide who their representatives will be. Athletic Academic folks should be included - they will be invited.

6. We need to name our group.

7. NACADA has been found as the best place for help. They have a week long conference in June which helps one set up an advising center. The Regional Meeting of NACADA is on March 18. They have issues which are particularly pertinent in this business. There are other organizations, but they are not as helpful.
