

Mathematica License Agreement

I agree to use the Wolfram Research Inc. (WRI) copyrighted computer software products in accordance with the agreement between University of Cincinnati and WRI. This agreement is outlined below.

1. Mathematica software is for the sole use of the Affiliated Individual on an Eligible Computer that is used primarily for teaching and/or research.
2. An Affiliated Individual is any person who is at least a half time faculty member, staff member or student of the University.
3. An Eligible Computer is a computer that is owned or leased by the University and is installed in a University owned facility that is located on the University main campus and Clermont and Raymond Walters branch campuses.
4. An Eligible Computer may also be owned or leased by an Affiliated Individual that is a faculty or staff member. This personally owned computer may be portable or located in the Affiliated Individual's residence.
5. I agree not to copy, modify, lease, loan, rent, or distribute WRI software and documentation. I agree not to provide access to Mathematica software to individuals who are not Affiliated Individuals.
6. I agree not to use WRI software or media granted to me under this site license for commercial or income purposes. Use of the software granted under this agreement is strictly restricted to educational and research use.
7. I agree not to decompile the object code portion of the products.
8. I agree that the right, title or intellectual property rights embodied in or associated with the products reside with WRI.
9. I agree to remove the software from my computer when I become non-affiliated with University of Cincinnati. Not doing so is a breach of this contract.
