More than 80% of incoming freshmen, plus many returning students choose to live in University Housing. It makes it easier to get to class, meet new people, get involved with clubs and take advantage of resources offered on campus. You don’t have to worry about commuting in bad weather or finding parking. Plus, Resident Advisors support the transition to college. When you live in the center of it all, there is more time to focus on why you’re here.

Campus Recreation

Campus Recreation offers a wide variety of activities to help your student reach academic success through physical and mental well-being. Campus Rec isn’t just about working out, though. Students can build their community by participating in intramural sports, hanging out at the climbing wall, taking a free group fitness class, going for a dip in the leisure pool, or swimming in our Olympic-sized lap pool.

Tangeman University Center (TUC)
