TRANSLATIONS

Ignea Vis (The Fiery Force) Hildegard von Bingen (1098-1179)

(Again I heard the voice from heaven instructing me, and it said:) Write what I tell you in this manner.

And I saw as if amidst airs of the South in the mystery of God a beautiful and marvelous
image of a human figure:
her face was of such beauty and brightness that staring into the sun would have been easier.
The largest circle of gold surrounded her face.

The figure spoke:
I am the sum of all fire and energy who has ignited the sparks of the living and breathed out no mortal thing for I judge them as they are.

Circling the circle
with my loftiest wings,
which is to have wisdom, flying rightly I have ordained the universe.
I am the fiery life of divine substance.

I blaze over the beauty of the fields, and I shine in the waters, and burn in the sun, moon and stars.

Cum Sancto Spiritu (from Gloria)

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace
to people of good will.
We praise you, we bless you, we adore you, we glorify you, we give you thanks
for your great glory,
For you alone are the Holy One,
you alone are the Lord,
you alone are the Most High,
Jesus Christ, Amen.

Hymne au soleil (Hymn to the Sun) Jean-François Casimir Delavigne (1793-1843)

Let us bless the power of the reborn sun;
With all the universe, let us celebrate its return.
Crowned in splendor, it rises and bounds forward.
The awakening of the earth is a hymn of love.
Seven steeds that God can scarcely restrain Set fire to the horizon with their burning breath.

O fertile sun, you appear!
With its flowering fields, its mountains, its dense woods,
The vast sea burning with your fire,
The universe, younger and fresher
From the mists of morning, arises sparkling from the dew!
