Gender-Based Violence Prevention Position Opening!

The Student Wellness Center at the University of Cincinnati is hiring a program manager for Gender-Based Violence Prevention. The Student Wellness Center is part of the Division of Student Affairs. The GBV Program Manager will assist in planning, designing, evaluating, modifying, and coordinating gender-based violence prevention programs for UC students. Primary duties include:

- Develop, implement, and evaluate comprehensive gender-based violence (GBV) prevention and awareness efforts; including consent education, bystander intervention, healthy relationships education, and more. This includes, but is not limited to, presentations, monthly awareness events, workshops and trainings, and more. These awareness efforts may take place on evenings or weekends.
- Conduct assessment activities to acquire relevant data about GBV prevalence, attitudes and perceptions about GBV, and the influence of environmental factors that contribute to GBV on campus.
- Develop, implement, and evaluate environmental prevention and awareness strategies, including, but not limited to, social norms marketing and creating a culture of respect.
- Provide support to other university departments in developing University and/or departmental GBV policies, procedures, and programs.
- Utilize best-practices for GBV prevention using ongoing research and benchmarking.
- Serve on University and Division of Student Affairs committees that are responsible for shaping policies and programs that address the needs of students, particularly those regarding GBV and related issues.
- Write and coordinate grant funding around GBV issues.
- Demonstrate cultural competence and inclusiveness in working with populations of diverse cultures and identities in addressing GBV issues.
- Build and sustain collaborative working relationships with a wide range of campus and community partners.
- Serve as a member of the Student Wellness Center team, helping with projects and office duties as needed.
- Design pamphlets, brochures, videos, and other related materials.
- Must be able to work occasional week night and weekend hours.
- Other relevant duties as assigned.

Interested candidates can apply through jobs.uc.edu, Requisition #42241. If you have questions about the position, please email wellness.center@uc.edu.