- Bolivarian or Fifth Republic of Venezuela began with election of Hugo Chávez
- Venezuela went from being one of the richest countries in Latin America to one of the poorest
Angel Falls, Venezuela
Basis of the crisis

• In 2018, Venezuela’s oil exports represented 99 percent of all export revenue and 35 percent of GDP, according to the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries. The price of oil tumbled from $97.5 per barrel in 2013—when Nicolás Maduro assumed the presidency following Chávez’s death—to a mere $34.7 per barrel in 2016, the lowest price in more than a decade.
Venezuela – What went wrong?

- 1998 Hugo Chavez elected president of Venezuela
- Increase in oil prices in early 2000’s allowed Chavez to cut poverty by 20%, reduce illiteracy, and improve health care
- 2010: with oil prices reduced Chavez declares economic war due to shortage
  - Programs initiated during oil boom become unsustainable during oil bust
  - Overspending and price controls result in inflation and shortages
- 2013 Chavez dies, Nicolás Maduro becomes president
Venezuela – What went wrong?

• 2014 Venezuela enters economic recession
• 2015 parliamentary election puts opposition in majority
  • Maduro disavows National Assembly in 2017
• 2016 inflation rate is 800%, 1,000,000% expected for 2018
• 2018 Maduro calls early election, banning major opposition parties. He wins.
• 2019 National Assembly declares opposition leader Juan Guaidó President
• Killings by government (2017: 5,287, 2019 six months: 1569
Depth of economic crisis

• Economic crisis in Venezuela worse than the Great Depression in the U.S. or the “special period” in Cuba after the fall of the Soviet Union

• More than 4 million Venezuelans have left the country, the majority since 2015. This is about 10% of the population.

• International community urged to recognize Venezuelans as a group as refugees under Cartagena Declaration of 1984
  • Extends protection to “persons who have fled their country because their lives, security, or freedom have been threatened by generalized violence, foreign aggression, internal conflicts, massive violations of human rights or other circumstances which have seriously disturbed public order”.
