VOLUNTEER GUIDELINES:

- Look for opportunities that genuinely interest you.
- Read through each website before filling out an application and contacting the volunteer coordinator.
- Health related volunteering should be viewed as a means of career exploration and a way to help others – NOT a way to receive letters of recommendation.
- While it may not be necessary to commit a large number of hours weekly, be prepared to commit a few hours long-term (at least several months), this allows you to build trust, and show reliability within the organization.
- You are representing not only yourself but also pre-medical students and the University of Cincinnati – take pride in the work you do.
- Keep a log of the dates & hours that you volunteer along with a few notes about your experiences – this will come in handy when you apply to professional schools.
- Enjoy the process and be curious!
