UNIVERSITY OF CINCINNATI

Official Proceedings of the

Three Hundred and Eighty-Second Meeting of the Board of Trustees

(A Regular Meeting)

June 22, 2021

The Three Hundred and Eighty-Second Session of the Board of Trustees of the University of Cincinnati was opened at 9:22 a.m. on Tuesday, June 22, 2021 via WebEx Conferencing of the University of Cincinnati. Notice of this meeting was given in accordance with Section 121.22 of the Ohio Revised Code. The proceedings of the Board, when not otherwise provided for by its bylaws, are governed by Robert’s Rules of Order.

Ronald D. Brown, Chairperson of the Board of Trustees, presided.

Mr. Brown asked that roll be called.

BOARD MEMBERS PRESENT: Ronald D. Brown, Margaret K. Valentine, Kim Heiman, Phil Collins, Thomas E. Mischell, J. Phillip Holloman, Monica Turner, Gregory Hartmann, Jill McGruder

BOARD MEMBERS ABSENT: None

ALSO PRESENT: Neville G. Pinto, President; Patrick Kowalski, Acting Senior Vice President for Administration and Finance; Kristi Nelson, Provost & Senior Vice President Academic Affairs; Lori Ross, General Counsel; Ryan Hays, Executive Vice President; Andrew Filak Jr., Sr. VP for Health Affairs and Dean, College of Medicine; Jack Cohen, Graduate Student Trustee; Abigail Klare, Undergraduate Student Trustee; April Gable, Undergraduate Student Body President
Mr. Brown:

Welcome and good morning. Hopefully this is the last virtual meeting for a while. If everything goes according to plan, our August Board of Trustees meeting will be in person. And, I have a feeling everybody is looking forward to that. I know I am, so we will see you then.

We have a couple of farewells and one welcome to our meeting today. Abigail Klare’s term expires as of this meeting. Abby was appointed as the Undergraduate Student Trustee by Governor DeWine in 2019. We will miss Abby’s voice and the many thoughtful contributions she has made during her term. Students are the Board of Trustees’ number one priority and it was quite helpful for us to gain Abby’s perspective and opinion on matters impacting today’s students, as well as other important matters impacting the university.

Thank you, Abby. We look forward to hearing your last report later in the meeting and your last report as a trustee. Thank you again.

Mr. Hartmann:

Thank you, Abby. We are going to miss you.
Mr. Brown:

Another thank you and farewell goes to Chris Collins. Chris has done a wonderful job of representing the staff members of the university. The staff senate reports have been a great addition to our trustee meeting and we look forward to hearing your report later as well. Thank you very much, Chris, for all of your contributions to our Board.

I’d like to welcome Heidi Pettyjohn, who is our new staff representative, stepping into Chris Collins role. Heidi is the Executive Director of Accessibility and ADA Coordinator for the university. It is great to have you join us and we are looking forward to your many contributions as well to our Board of Trustees in these meetings.

This academic year was one of the most challenging in our history, at least in my history since I’ve been with the university, and I’d like to both acknowledge and thank this board and our entire university community, including all of the university leaders that are on this call today. The commitment and dedication to fulfilling the very important mission of the university during this difficult pandemic year is very much appreciated and thank you all for what you did this past year.

Our students proved yet again that they are resilient, creative, and up for the challenges that life will throw at them. I know Dr. Pinto will mention the commencement ceremony during his report, but what a special day it was for our students to take part in an in-person ceremony in Nippert Stadium. I couldn’t be more proud of our students and the university staff and leadership team who made it all happen for the graduation ceremony. Thanks, everyone, for that. It was a job well done by all.

At this time, I’d like to ask President Pinto for his report.
Dr. Pinto:

Thank you, Chairman Brown, and good morning to the trustees and everyone else who is on the call. I also would like to wish both Abby and Chris well. Thank you for your service to this board. Personally, I've enjoyed very much working with both of you. You are truly tremendous Bearcats, so thank you for all you have done. Also, welcome to Heidi. I look forward to working with you in the coming years.

I think all of us know that June is Pride Month. This is an important time to actively support our LGBTQ community at UC. It is also a time to reinforce our commitment to an inclusive campus that welcomes people of all sexual orientations and gender identities.

Since our last meeting, I had the pleasure of presiding over our Spring Commencement ceremonies. The April 30 graduations were our first large scale in-person academic gatherings since the start of the pandemic. It was also the largest graduating class in our history. Though we were masked and had to limit the number of family and friends who could attend, we pulled it off on the blue skies inside Nippert Stadium during two rewarding ceremonies. This is once again proof of our institution’s success to keep our students moving forward to a degree completion despite difficult circumstances.

The Spring Class of 2021 included 6,866 graduates hailing from 82 different nations and all 50 states and they received 7,225 degrees. We had the usual number of overachievers who received more than one degree. Among those degrees are 242 doctorates, 297 professional degrees, 1,433 master degrees, 4,749 bachelor degrees, and 504 associate degrees.

As we make our way through Summer semester and plan for Fall, I'm encouraged that we anticipate a more traditional experience for our students and university community. During Fall semester, we expect students to fully participate in classes, the residential experience, as well as student activities. We have already begun our three-phase return to campus for employees and the expectation is that every office will be open and fully staffed by July 15. We have also updated our Covid protocols and you can find all the details on the website maintained by our Covid Response Team at www.uc.edu/publichealth.

As we move to a more in-person experience, we must recognize the continuing mental health challenges faced by our students, our faculty, and staff, particularly during times of transition. Mental Health Services will continue to be crucial to a healthy return and I encourage our community to take full advantage of university resources beginning with counseling and psychological services which offers 24-hour support.

I am pleased today to announce pending the board's approval, news of UC’s next Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost. Dr. Valerio Ferme will begin as the university's Chief Academic Officer, effective August 3. He was identified through a national search process led by Vice President for Research Pat Limbach. I am grateful to the Search Committee for their outstanding work in identifying Dr. Ferme as our next Provost. He comes to us with stellar academic credentials. He is a professor of English and Comparative Literature and has deep academic administrative experience. As you know, he is currently the Dean of our College of Arts and Sciences, our largest college, but he was previously the Dean of the College of Arts and Letters at the University of Northern Arizona.

Dr. Ferme in the last two years as UC’s Dean for the College of Arts and Sciences, has among his accomplishments created the 21st Century Task Force to support the college's strategic plan and help move the college in a positive direction financially, despite the challenges presented by the pandemic. He also spearheaded a college-wide commitment to sponsored research helping Art and Science faculty attract 16 million dollars in research funding in Fiscal Year 2021, up from the previous five-year average.

Please join me in acknowledging the steadfast leadership of Dr. Kristi Nelson, who has served as Provost since 2017 leading our pursuit of academic excellence as part of the Next Lives Here strategic direction. I'd like to read from the presidential proclamation which I will be presenting to her:

Kristi A. Nelson, akin to the compelling masterpieces to which you have devoted your distinguished career as a professor of art history, you appreciate the University of Cincinnati trajectory as an integrated whole as well as its fine details. You are that kind of leader one who easily moves from broad strategic vision to daily decision making and action.

You first retired from the University of Cincinnati in 2015 after 36 outstanding years of teaching and administrative posts that ranged from Chair of Art History, Associate Dean in the College of Design, Architecture, Art, and Planning, To Vice Provost for Faculty Relations, Senior Vice Provost, Interim Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and Interim On Site Administrator of the College of Nursing.

Returning to the university in 2017, you have now added nearly four years of additional brush strokes to your magnum opus, serving as the Executive Vice President and Provost for Academic Affairs, our university's Chief Academic Officer. Throughout this addendum to a career already marked by your open and unlimited love for UC and its students, your ethos has been one of optimism, affirmation, and momentum.

You have been a partner leader who inaugurated the first meetings bringing Department Heads, Deans, and the Provost together for regular think tanks. As an astute collaborator, you have vigorously and creatively upheld the ideals of Next thinking, inspiring our faculty and academic staff to think in new and novel ways.
In recognition of your immense contributions to the purposes and ideals of the University of Cincinnati, it is therefore my privilege by the power vested in me as its President to present to you this presidential proclamation and request that it be spread upon the minutes of today's Board of Trustees meeting.

Dr. Pinto:

I have the proclamation and I will just put it up to the camera. I obviously cannot give it to her through this medium, but I will give it to you, Kristi, at the next opportunity. In fact, we will be meeting today and I will hand it to you personally at that time.

We now have a presentation this morning by the college Conservatory of Music and Dean Stanley Romanstein will present.

Presentation Greetings/Overview:

Dr. Romanstein:

Good morning, everyone. I apologize for the technical difficulties. Chairman Brown, thank you for the opportunity to talk about my favorite thing, the university's nationally ranked and internationally renowned College Conservatory of Music.

Let me begin with a few fast facts. Our name, College Conservatory of Music reflects our history. In 1867, as our country was struggling to reunite after a long and destructive Civil War, a young piano and voice teacher named Clara Baur, established the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music as one of the first music conservatories in the US. A German immigrant, Clara traveled throughout Europe studying the methods of prominent music educators. Her goal was to bring their best practices to Cincinnati and create a European style conservatory that would attract international talent to the region and establish Cincinnati as one of this country's leading cultural centers.

The Conservatory was so successful that it quickly inspired a competitor. In 1878, the Cincinnati College of Music was founded. In 1962 these two powerful institutions, College and Conservatory working together as one, became the 14th College of the University of Cincinnati. But our name tells only half of our story. CCM succeeded in attracting talent and thought leaders from throughout the world. It became an incubator for new artistic ideas, new disciplines, new technologies, and new opportunities. CCM became more than just a leading conservatory for aspiring classical musicians.

In the performing and media arts, CCM truly became and has remained the home of Next. We were the first major music school in the country to offer a professional training in dance. We established the country's first collegiate broadcasting department, an initiative that evolved into our award-winning Media Production program, which now partners with UCF Athletics and ESPN Plus to broadcast UC sports, while providing incredible hands on learning opportunities for our students. The CCM musical theater program was the very first in the country and is still regarded as one of the best. In partnership with the Lindner College of Business, we created an innovative MA MBA program in arts administration, the first of its kind.

Our program enjoys an enviable 100% annual job placement rate. With our partners at the Cincinnati Symphony, we are revolutionizing the orchestra industry talent pipeline with our CCM and CSO Diversity Fellowship. The CCM CSO Fellowship was the first of its kind combining the resources of a top professional orchestra with those of a top tier Conservatory. And even during the pandemic, with funding made possible by Provost Nelson and UC Forward, CCM looked to the future with an innovative CCM IDEA Lab, a cross disciplinary initiative that will allow our students to explore emerging trends and uses of new technologies in the performing and media arts. Our commitment to excellence and innovation is embedded in our DNA. We push the boundaries of traditional classroom experiences and turn CCM's rehearsal halls and stages into vibrant laboratories. CCM's enrollment is approximately 1,400 students and with about 800 undergraduates 600 graduates, our reach is incredibly wide. This year our students will come from 43 states and 32 foreign countries. In fall 2020 we saw a record number of applications even during the pandemic of over 3,400 applications for admission. That represents an 11% increase over just two years. CCM is a highly selective college. In a typical year, we accept about 12% of those who apply, unless you are applying in musical theater where we accept only 1.2% of the applicants.

Let me conclude these fast facts with one last set of numbers. CCM’s development team typically raises 3 to 3.5 million dollars a year. We allocate those dollars equally between student scholarships and support for CCM programs and performances. This year in recognition of COVID-19’s impact on philanthropy, the UC Foundation very wisely set our fundraising goal at only 1.8 million. Against that 1.8 million-dollar goal, we have now raised 5.8 million. We are deeply grateful to our generous donors, some of whom are in this morning's meeting, for their unfailing commitment to our students’ success.

We talk about CCM being nationally ranked and internationally renowned and it is true. I could talk easily and enthusiastically about CCM Jazz. When Jazz legend Winton Marsalis launched Jazz at Lincoln Center's College Affiliate Program in 2019, CCM was the first college he invited to participate. And, we have just accepted a new invitation from Winton to return to Lincoln Center. I could talk about the success our acting program alumni are finding in LA’s film and television industry, or Playbills Assertion that CCM has more alumni working on New York's Broadway than almost any school in the country.
In the few minutes I have remaining, let me offer you a couple of examples of where you will find Next, as in Next Lives Here at CCM. This year in response to COVID-19, we closed the doors of our performance spaces to audiences from the community but, we still needed to connect with alumni, prospective students, and their families. With support from President Pinto and Provost Nelson, and our donors, we launched CCM Digital utilizing the expertise of our media production faculty and alumni we produced online broadcasts of professional quality performances, accompanied by faculty, and student interviews for audiences across the country and literally around the world.

We also launched a new podcast series that shares stories and advice from CCM alumni working in nearly every aspect of the arts and entertainment industries. None of our peer institutions came anywhere close to what we did through CCM Digital and one of our most recent CCM digital broadcasts featured CCM Opera. There is so much about CCM Opera in which you as members of the board can take pride.

First, CCM Opera is deeply connected to this community. Our partnership with Cincinnati Opera includes an emphasis on the creation of bold new works by underrepresented voices. Supported by a grant from the Mellon Foundation, our partnership receives national and international attention. We are telling stories that are important to the people of Cincinnati and we are playing an active role in the creation of new Opera in evolving the art form through collaborations with Jazz legends and Pop musicians.

Second, CCM Opera is rooted in superb vocal training provided by CCM faculty. New York City's Metropolitan Opera sponsors an annual competition to find the world's best young singers. If you're a professional football fan, think of this like the NFL combining a gathering of the very best of the very best. This year's competition started with 1,200 singers from around the world. Of the 10 finalists, three were from CCM and when the judges named the five final winners, Raven McMillon, whose picture you see on the screen was from CCM. No other school can match that achievement, particularly when you consider that CCM also won the MET competition in 2019 and in 2018.

Thirdly, CCM opera doesn't rest on its laurels. CCM Opera is without question a nationally ranked and internationally renowned program, so how do we reach even higher? How do we get better? What is next? Well, we hire new artists and teachers that are superb in their own rights. This year we added two international superstars, Stuart Skelton and Elliot Madore to CCM faculty. Both have connections to Cincinnati, both are enjoying immense success as performers, and both are gifted and committed teachers. Stuart and Elliot will open doors for our students and extend CCM’s national and international reputation. CCM Opera students will receive not only superb vocal training and opportunities to create new works in partnership with Cincinnati Opera, but they will also have opportunities now to live and study in Italy, Germany, and France to apprentice with European opera companies, Think Co Op comes to Opera, and to master the traditional languages and cultures of Opera.

With support from President Pinto and Provost Nelson, in the coming academic year CCM will launch a groundbreaking industry leading language and culture immersion program for our opera students. This is a game changer. No other conservatory has reached this high. Next is truly living here at CCM.

Thanks so much for listening so attentively. I hope you will be my guest for an upcoming performance at CCM and I would be glad to answer any questions you may have.
Dr. Pinto:

Thank you, Stanley for that presentation and for your leadership of this college of talented students, faculty, and staff. I certainly am looking forward to in-person concerts and performances coming this fall. That will be one of the pleasures that we can resurrect once we get together.

I will open it up for any questions that those on the call may have for Dr. Romanstein.

Mr. Collins:

I just have one quick question. I've being looking forward to getting together in person for performances this year as well. I also found having the accessibility digitally really made it more accessible, I'm sure, to other people outside the region here who can't make it to campus for events. Is the plan to continue to present those performances in a digital format going forward?

Dr. Romanstein:

Yes, and thank you for the question. We will be back on stage before live audiences, and we will continue to move things to the community through CCM Digital. So yes, the digital broadcast will remain. Thank you.

Dr. Pinto:

Are there any other questions? Okay, thank you again, Stanley, for the presentation. Chairman Brown, that completes my presentation. Thank you for the opportunity and I'll turn it back to you.

Mr. Brown:

Thank you, President Pinto, and thank you, Dr. Romanstein. That was an excellent presentation and certainly for many of us have made us proud that CCM is a very important part of the university. Thank you very much.

I would also like to thank Kristi Nelson for sharing her talents and her experience, basically her career with the University of Cincinnati. We have all benefited from your sharing those talents with us and we wish you very well.

Dr. Nelson:

Thank you, Chairman Brown and President Pinto. It was very touching. I appreciate the kind words, and as you know, it's been wonderful to be here and share this experience with all of you.

Mr. Brown:

Thank you, Kristi. Are there any questions before we move on to the committee reports and any comments? If not, it's time for our committee meetings.

Consideration of Action Items

Mr. Brown:

On the approval of recommendation to appoint Valerio C. Ferme for Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost, President Pinto will you comment on this recommendation?

Dr. Pinto:

Thank you, Chairman Brown. I commented in my opening remarks, but I can certainly add to that. Again, I want to thank the Search Committee under the leadership of Vice-President Pat Limbach, for identifying Professor Ferme to be our next Provost and I strongly recommend his appointment and approval of the recommendation by the Board of Trustees. He is, as I said earlier a very well recognized academic as a Professor of English and Comparative Literature.

He has deep experience in administrative leadership at universities. This is his second Deanship at our College of Arts and Sciences. He's done a tremendous job in the two years that he has led that college. He has committed to excellence in every aspect of academics, teaching research, scholarship, creativity, and innovation.

He has a very deep commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion as well. Most importantly, he is very excited and energized about being appointed to this position. It is clearly very visible. He's on the call by the way, so you can see him, and he is of course committed to the vision of the university of leading urban public universities into a new era of innovation impact.

Without hesitation, I recommend him to the board for approval.
Mr. Brown:

Thank you, may I have a motion and a second to approve the appointment of Valerio C. Ferme for Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost?

Upon a motion moved by Mrs. Valentine, a second by Mr. Mischell, roll call vote was taken.

Mr. Brown:

Dr. Ferme:

Thank you very much to everybody here and thank you, President Pinto. I'm both honored and humbled and as the President said, excited. I also want to thank Kristi for everything she has done for me both to prepare me for this but also to be a counselor while I was in my other position.

I want to thank every member of the board. I've met most of you and I'm really looking forward to this partnership moving forward. Thank you.

Mr. Brown:

Thank you. We're looking forward to your contributions as well. The full board has been present at the Committee Meetings held today and has received the recommendations of the Academic and Student Affairs, Finance and Administration, and Governance and Internal Affairs Committees.
May I have a motion to approve all the recommended items put forth by the Academic and Student Affairs Committee, Finance and Administration Committee, and Governance and Internal Affairs Committee?

Upon a motion moved by Mr. Mischell, a second by Mrs. Valentine, roll call vote was taken.

Mr. Brown:

The motion passed and all items are approved. Thank you.

Unfinished Business and New Business

Mr. Brown:

Is there any unfinished business to come before the board? If not, I would like to move on to reports from the board of representatives. We will start with our graduate student trustee, Jack Cohen. Jack, can we have your report?

Graduate Student Report

Mr. Cohen:

Good Morning, everyone. And I think I'm going to echo in a lot of sections here in my report that a lot of the folks here have said earlier. We all know that there is a large amount of changes after every Spring Commencement. In my last report I bid farewell to the outgoing Graduate Student Government executive team and welcomed the new grad students taking the torch. Unfortunately, this time around I must bid farewell to Abigail Klare, my undergraduate counterpart. I am sure I speak for a lot of people on this call when I say we will miss you, big thanks for all the help to the board over the last two years, and to me particularly over the last year. Unfortunately, due to Covid, we never got to meet each other in person but we found good ways to be good colleagues regardless.

Speaking about Spring Commencement, what a great event that was. It was great to see how fast the team mobilized to set up a day that was compliant to the state’s and CDC’s Covid guidance while retaining most of the aspects of the ceremony we know and love. Even without cooperative weather, it turned out to be a great ceremony. Now, with the announcement that Nippert Stadium will return to full capacity for the 2021 football season, I am excited to see what other plans there are to continue re-baselining this ‘new normal.’ Hopefully I can even meet most of you in person for the first time.

The next big event for the graduate students outside of Summer Commencement will be the Fall 2021 orientation. To follow in the wake of the large format change last year which moved us from an in-person weekend to a virtual week-long event, this Fall looks to be more of a hybrid approach; there will be in-person activities as well as a remote option for those who will not be comfortable attending.

The GSG and I are building a packed agenda for the next academic year to continue driving the momentum which has been building around the Mental Health and Professional Development topics. In this vein, I’d like to remind this group that June is Pride Month and we have to recognize that this member group of our community and student body experiences disproportionate challenges with their mental health as a result of family lack of acceptance, bullying, and various types of discrimination. Part of improving overall mental health at UC includes bolstering existing LGBTQ specific services and expanding where needed.

Finally, part of next year’s agenda for the GSG will be to create a student led Diversity, Inclusion, and Equity committee to mirror existing faculty and staff led initiatives.

This concludes my report today. Thank you.

Mr. Brown:

Thank you, Jack, and we are all looking forward to meeting you in person as well. Thank you for that report.

Next report is going to be from Abigail Klare. While it will be great to hear your report, it is sad to hear that it is your last report.

Undergraduate Student Report

Ms. Klare:

Thanks to everyone. Good morning Chairman Brown, members of the Board, President Pinto, President’s Cabinet, and guests.

It is with tremendous gratitude that I join you today for my last official board meeting as Undergraduate Student Trustee. Two years ago, I believed I had an idea of what I thought I could bring to this role, but I sit here today truly humbled by all that this role has brought to me. It has been one of the greatest honors of my life to represent the undergraduate student body of this institution to this distinguished group of fellow trustees and university administrators. I am grateful to each and every one of you that has generously given me your time and formed me through your friendship.

As I consider all that has taken place in the last two years, it’s hard to capture the breadth of what has transpired at our university and in our world in these few words I’m able to offer today. From the triumphant celebration of our Bicentennial to the immense hardships and challenges posed by a global pandemic, there has never been a dull moment in the timeline of my holding this office. Yet as I reflect, through it all, I can testify to the steady, thoughtful, and prudent leadership that has continued to guide our beloved university. In both moments of joy and difficulty, I am honored and proud to have been a part of this team of leaders who have steadfastly endured.

To my fellow board members, present and past, to President Pinto, Provost Nelson, and the entire administration—thank you. Thank you for trusting me as a partner, for elevating the voices of students, and for investing in our next generation of Bearcats through your service to this university. Provost Nelson, as has been mentioned already today, your selfless service to this institution will continue to shape its promise and future for years to come. It has been a true honor to know and work with you over the last two years, and I wish you the very best in your retirement.

To the undergraduate students of the University of Cincinnati—thank you, especially. Thank you for the opportunity to represent you to the best of my abilities throughout these last two years. From you, I have learned from experiences both like, and in particular, those unlike my own. Time and time again, I have been reminded that the unmatched potential of this institution stems from the unique, yet united identity we assume as Bearcats. Our community of scholars, artists, performers, athletes, and friends is rich because we value the irrevocable dignity of one another’s unique personhood and contribution to this Bearcat family. I look forward to passing on this office to my successor in the days and weeks to come and wish him/her the very best in this incredible opportunity for servant leadership.

While my time on the board is drawing to a close, I am grateful to have one more year here at UC before graduating next Spring. Rest assured, I will wear my Bearcat red and black with the utmost pride for the rest of my life, and I hope that today is not a good-bye, and instead a “see you later.”

For the very last time, thank you Chairman Brown. This concludes my report.

Mr. Brown:

Thank you, Abby, and thank you for everything, but we look forward to being there for your graduation ceremony. We also wish you much success after that graduation ceremony as well, thank you.

At this time, we will now move to the Faculty Senate report from Dr. Loving.

Faculty Senate Report

Dr. Loving:

Thank you, and welcome everyone to what I hope will be our last virtual meeting. After the conclusion of Spring semester, faculty have been diligently planning for a new academic year in what we hope will be better circumstances. The level of dedication everyone has shown faculty staff, students, administration has been truly remarkable.

Summer for faculty is a time of catching up on academic projects, course design, redesign, and exploring new projects to bring new knowledge into the classroom and into the world. A colleague and I just submitted a manuscript to a publisher last week. Summer for Faculty Senate is a time of leadership transition, as it is for both student and staff groups, as we have heard already today. Our election cycle is complete, and we do prepare for a new wave of faculty who have chosen to participate in the governance of the university. We also recently moved into new offices in the U Square building, and we do thank University Hall on East Campus for hosting us for the last two years as our new space was made ready. Of course, with every move come moments of reflection as we decide what we really need to keep.

I will report with a sincere expression of appreciation to Kristi Nelson for her long service to this university. From a poor philosophy professor to a lowly art historian, I have appreciated your dedication to the concept of a true university education in breadth and depth. Humanities and arts foster the critical thinking and communication skills, which are the foundation of leadership success. On our worst days at the university, we feel that we're only measured by the money we make but on our best days, we are measured by the people that we make. Kristi has known this all along and fought for it, and from my vantage point as Senate Chair, she's been an honest partner in the trenches of higher education. We have not always seen eye to eye, but she is willing to stand shoulder to shoulder to get things done. We can only hope that the new Provost takes a lesson for integrity and accessibility, so Provost Nelson, we certainly wish you well from Faculty Senate.

Of course, on that note, I happily welcome Provost Ferme. Faculty Senate looks forward to working together to take this university into a bright future, so thank you everyone.

That concludes my report. Thank you.
Mr. Brown:

Thank you, Greg, for your report. Next, I call for the Staff Senate Report by Chris Collins, although we have Heidi Pettyjohn here as well.

Chris before you make your report, I would like to, again, thank you very much for all the contributions and we are going to miss you as being able to provide the reports to us in the future. We also look forward to Heidi joining us as well, thank you.

Staff Senate Report

Ms. Collins:

Thank you, Chairman Brown. Good morning fellow board members, President Pinto, and guests. I would like to thank Abigail Klare for her terrific service. She was the first person I met at my first in Person Board of Trustees meeting. It has been a real pleasure to serve with you, and I wish you all the best.

For my last report, I really can't describe what a wonderful experience it's been to see the Staff Senate grow from an idea into a reality. I must just offer my deepest thanks to the Board of Trustees, President Pinto, and Provost Nelson for your support in the creation of the Senate.

And with that, I'm delighted to offer a few highlights of our accomplishments this year.

IMPACT

- One of our original goals for the Staff Senate was to provide services that staff would find helpful in their careers and daily work. This year, 31.2% of all university staff engaged with Staff Senate initiatives, up 17.7% from last year.
• The first annual Staff Professional Development Week took place in March with over 1700 session attendees and an average of more than 100 participants per session.

• The 2\textsuperscript{nd} annual Staff Excellence Awards ceremony in December had a record-breaking 259 nominations and honored 10 staff whose dedication and innovative leadership made a difference under the most extraordinary circumstances.

INCLUSION

• Recommendations to request representation on the President’s Cabinet, the Academic Committee, and the Diversity Council were accepted and approved, with again, many thanks to President Pinto, Provost Nelson, and Dr. Bleuzette Marshall, for their support and encouragement. In total, appointments to university governance committees increased by 25\% this year, providing opportunities for a staff voice on a wide range of issues, from the Parking Advisory Committee to the Fiscal Coordinating Committee, among many others.

• The Senate also passed an enactment to create a new committee of its own, a standing Diversity, Equity & Inclusion Committee to advocate for a culture of inclusion and promote a diverse and equitable staff experience at the University of Cincinnati.

INNOVATION

• Our new Bearcats Landing site launched in the Fall, and by May had over \textbf{20,000 site visits}, driving engagement with staff from across the institution to the university’s new intranet.

• In April, the \textbf{Remote Work Operations Advisory Committee} submitted its final report and recommendations to senior leadership, and the Staff Senate continues to collect staff feedback to share with senior leadership as we advocate for an innovative “new normal” that includes remote, hybrid, and flexible work schedules for staff.

Thank you for the opportunity to report on a few of Staff Senate’s many accomplishments this year, with sincere thanks to the members of the senate and my wonderful colleagues on the Cabinet, including fellow original committee members Lacey McCarthy and Renee Hargrove.

I also want to thank Bob Ambach, Tamie Grunow, and Nicole Blount for their mentorship and guidance this year and throughout my term, and Faculty Senate Chair Greg Loving for being such a great partner and supporter of staff.

As we prepare for the 2021-2022 Staff Senate term, please join me in congratulating and welcoming our incoming senators, whose names are attached for reference, and incoming Chair-Elect, Heidi Pettyjohn, Executive Director for Accessibility in the Division of Student Affairs.
Welcome, Heidi. I know the Staff Senate will do well under your extraordinary leadership.

Thank you, Chairman Brown. This concludes my report.

Mr. Brown:

Thank you, Chris, and thank you for all the hard work getting the Staff Senate together.
This is starting at new but it's important and it's been great to have your input from the staff and that we appreciate that. To Heidi, welcome to providing future reports to the board of trustees.

It is now time for the report from the Student Government President, April Gable. But first, Heidi, let me ask you if you have some comments you were going to make before I move on?

Ms. Pettyjohn:

Thank you. The main thing I would like to do is congratulate Chris, Lacey, Renee and the others. I want to reiterate the fact that to begin something, and to start and build this work will probably never be fully appreciated or understood by senates and committees to come. We don't often see the strong foundation but the beautiful building that comes, especially when you do that during a pandemic. Chris’s leadership has been extraordinary in her advocacy for staff, so thank you. It is big shoes to fill and I look forward to working with everyone in the future.

Mr. Brown:

Thank you, Heidi. And now, I'd like to call on April Gable for the student government report.

Student Government Report

Ms. Gable:

Good Morning Chairman Brown, Board Members, President Pinto, Cabinet, and guests.

As always, the summer term seems to have found it’s quick, yet steady pace as we enter week 7 of the academic semester. Vice President Taylor Allgood, myself, and the fellow members of the Undergraduate Student Government have begun work on some highly anticipated initiatives. I have included a short list to highlight a few:

1) While working with the Student Activities Board (SAB), the UC Wellness Center, and numerous USG Directors and Senators; we have chosen the week of September 20-24 to host USG’s annual RESET Week. RESET Week was introduced through the Lindsay + Dierking administration last year. This year we dedicate the effort toward giving students a moment to rest, re-charge, and increase focus on intersectionality and care. This week will include workshops, events, and small gatherings alongside the cancellation of all extracurricular scheduled meetings.
2) As we approach a safe return to campus, USG acknowledges the need of aligning our mission in serving all undergraduate students. Through the introduction of our Initiative Pipeline, Bearcats will have advanced and transparent access to what’s on the rise across the organization through biweekly updates on meetings, bills, and events shared through social media and on MainStreet screens in TUC, Dining Halls, Residence Halls, both Branch Campuses, and the University Recreation Center. Additionally, students will be able to request information and contacts via the new Your School, Your Voice Information Request Form that will be located on USG’s new uc.edu website.

3) Lastly, we are fortunate to be working with UC Athletics to increase exposure and empowerment within UC Women’s Sports through discussion of advancements in advertisement, exposure, and game coverage. We will continue the legacy of Hannah Markel and Dr. Sojka’s Inspire Equip Connect Women, a program dedicated to equipping young women with skills of resilience and strategy for life.

These few items are the beginning to a fruitful summer and academic year. We are thankful for the continued support, enthusiasm, and guidance of the board as we progress into Fall. In addition, Vice President Allgood and I stand behind the recommendation of freezing tuition for current students. Our current Bearcats have navigated many challenges these past fifteen months amongst a global pandemic including financial hardships. As a public institution, we hope UC continues to be a leader in creating a profound foundation for affordability and care for all current and prospective students.
On behalf of each and every student, we send our thanks for your work and dedication to return us safely to campus this fall. Through all your actions taken, it is widely seen by students the determination our university has to enhance the spirit of the red and black.

I would also like to mention and end my report by thanking all the members concluding their service day for their contributions and time to the Bearcat community, as well as welcome our new Provost as a passionate and proud arts and sciences student.

Thank you for your time this Tuesday morning. This concludes my report.

Mr. Brown:

Thank you, April. Are there any other comments or questions of anyone?

Mrs. Valentine:

Chairman Brown, I would just like to echo all of the comments that have been made for the those who are leaving us, and then welcoming the new people. Also to Dr. Ferme, welcome as the new Provost and to Kristi for all of your service in many, many aspects of the university, not just being Provost, but what you have done for the school.

Mr. Brown:

Thank you, Peg. Any other comments? If not, at this time I would like to move into Executive Session.
